Robbing Peter To Pay Paul

AUG. '77: "Maybe we'll have a nice, long summer vacation after all." Last spring, school closed for the summer on June 24, chopping 2 full weeks off summer vacation. Here was one unfortunate way to add vacation days:

Due to another anticipated deficit, the Board had to decide whether to open very late (mid-Oct. or early Nov.) and thus gain continuity or to open on time only to close (Oct. 13.).

Since the 1st way seemed to be admitting defeat, they opted to open on time, Sept. 7. This would buy time to keep working on sources of revenue.

". . . Back in August I remember thinking it'll be just another year, money has got to come from somewhere. My feelings are now different. It's NOT the same. Money is nowhere and people are gonna be cheated!

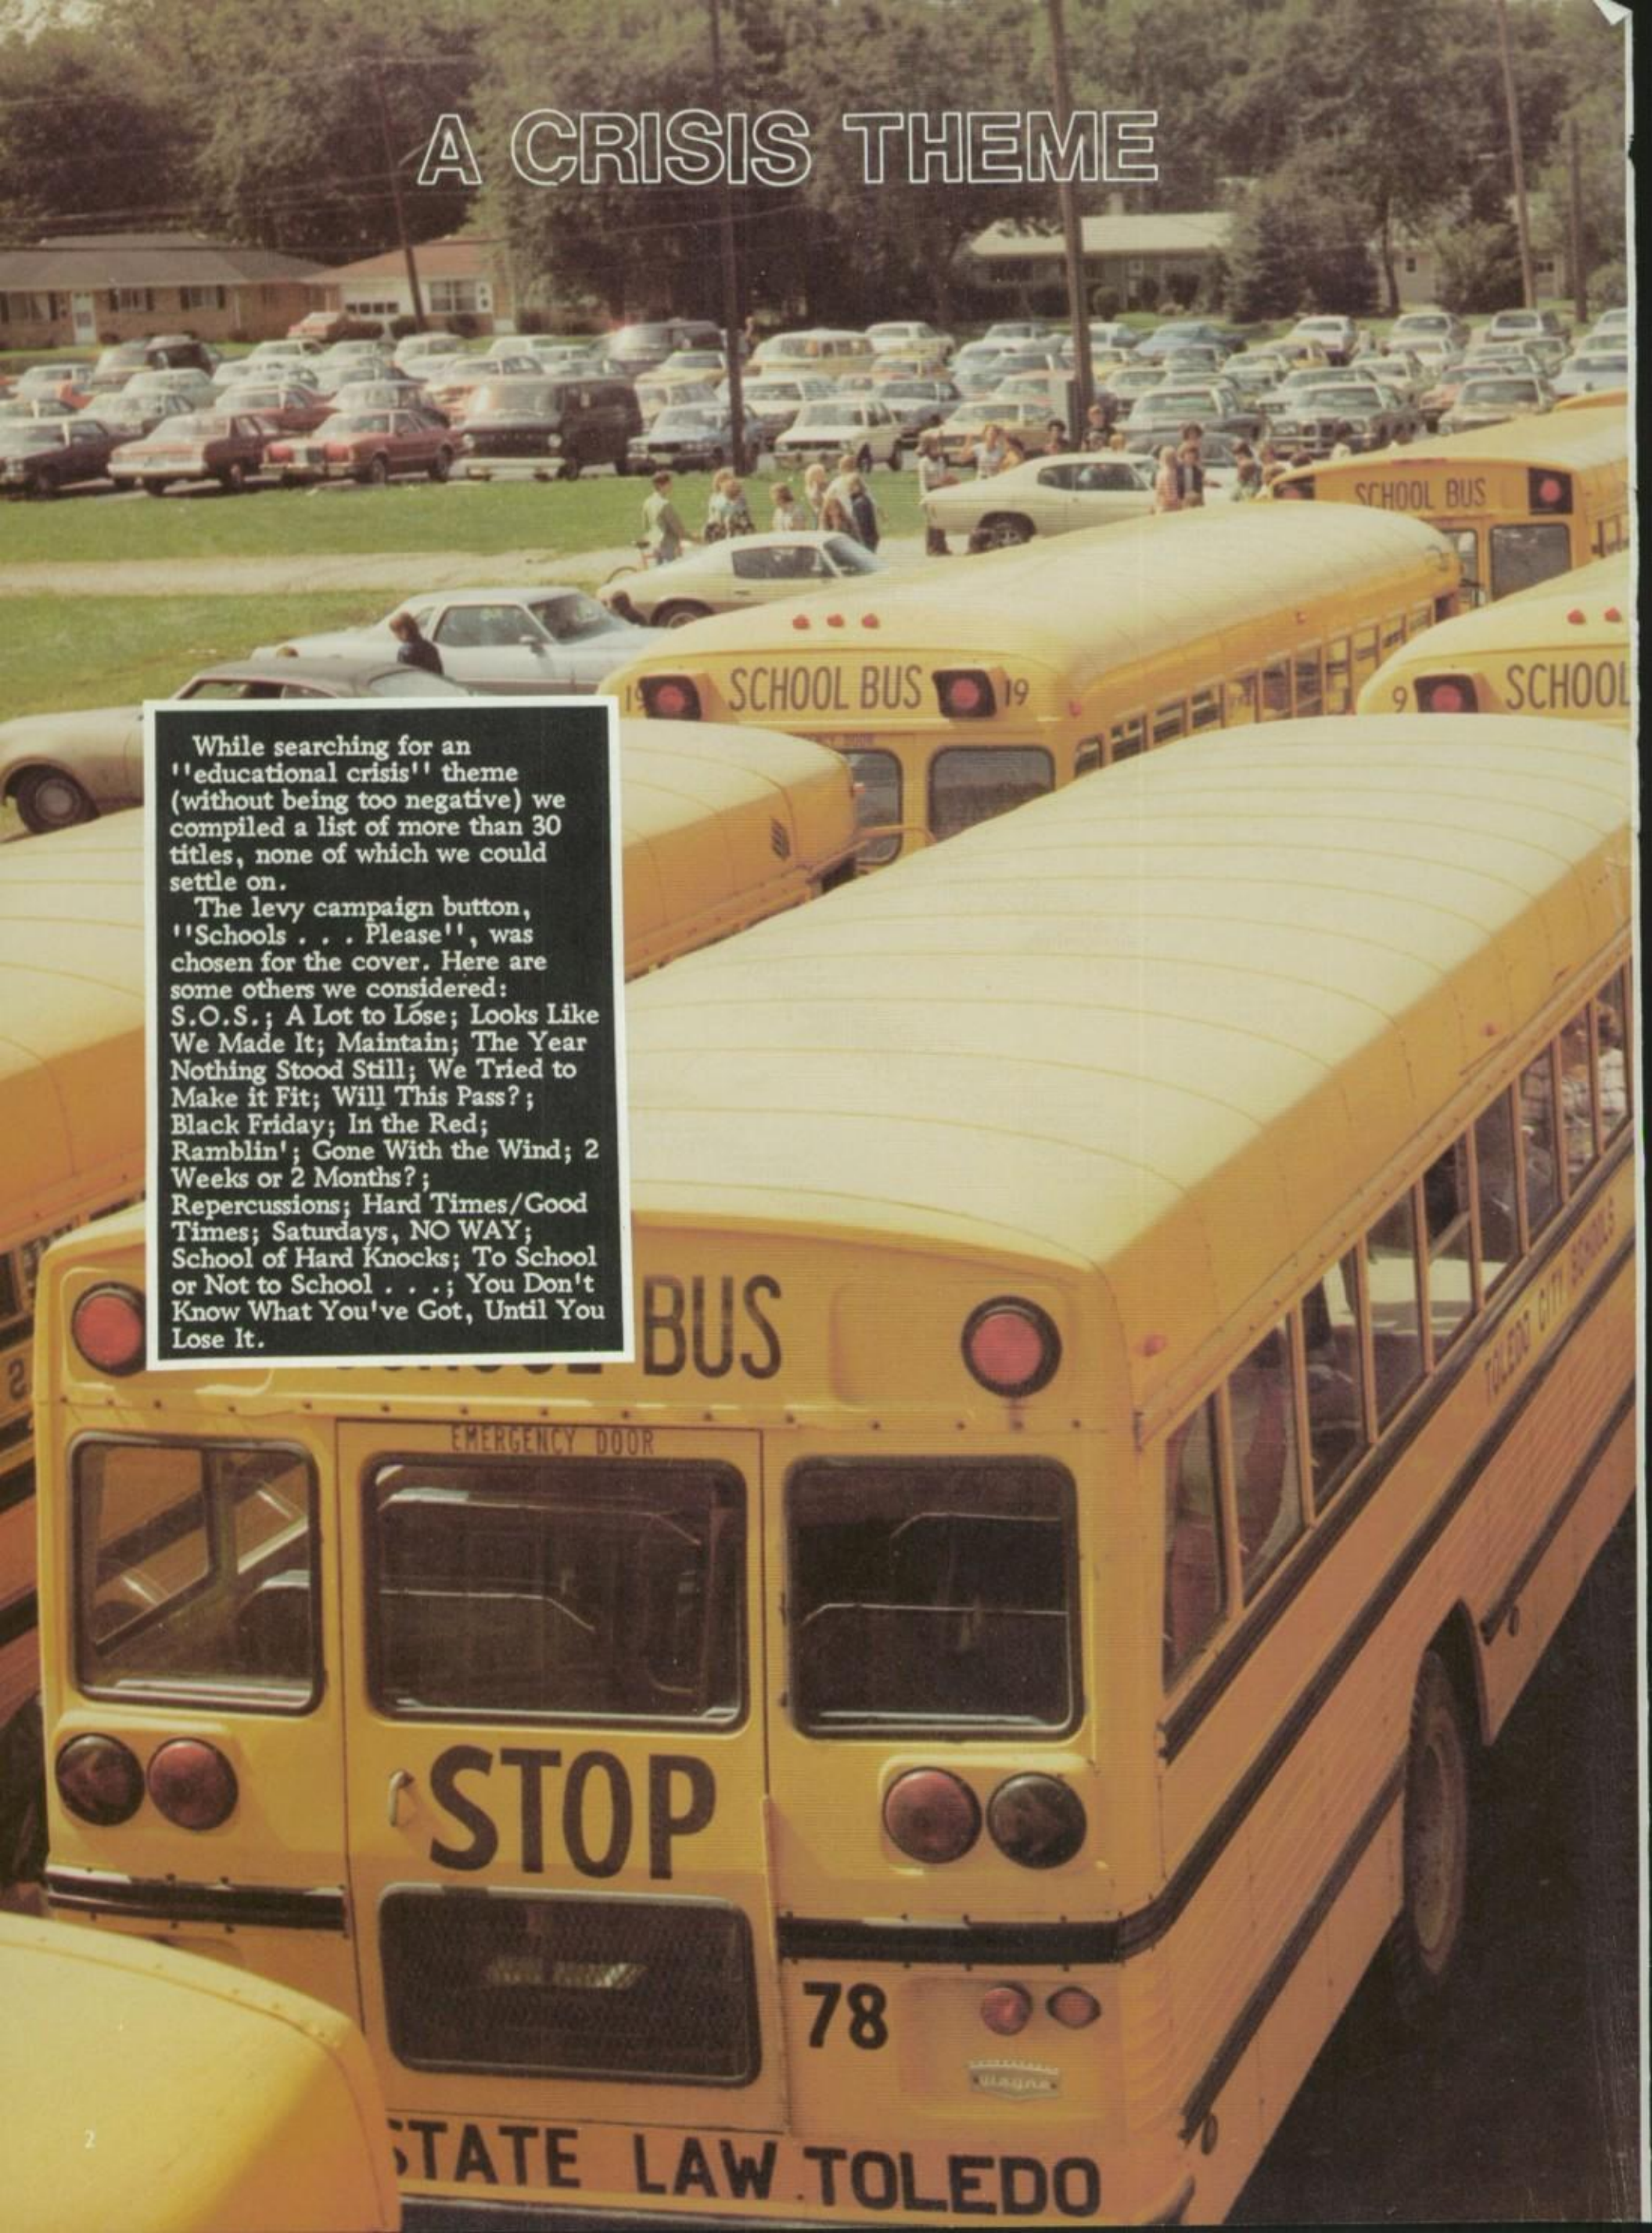

"I have finally begun to realize not just the fun parts of school, but how important my education is to me. I now have a different viewpoint on school and it's a shame that I had to get it this way."

A CRISIS THEME

While searching for an "educational crisis" theme (without being too negative) we compiled a list of more than 30 titles, none of which we could settle on.

The levy campaign button, "Schools . . . Please", was chosen for the cover. Here are some others we considered: S.O.S.; A Lot to Lose; Looks Like We Made It; Maintain; The Year Nothing Stood Still; We Tried to Make it Fit; Will This Pass?; Black Friday; In the Red; Ramblin'; Gone With the Wind; 2 Weeks or 2 Months?; Repercussions; Hard Times/Good Times; Saturdays, NO WAY; School of Hard Knocks; To School or Not to School . . .; You Don't Know What You've Got, Until You Lose It.

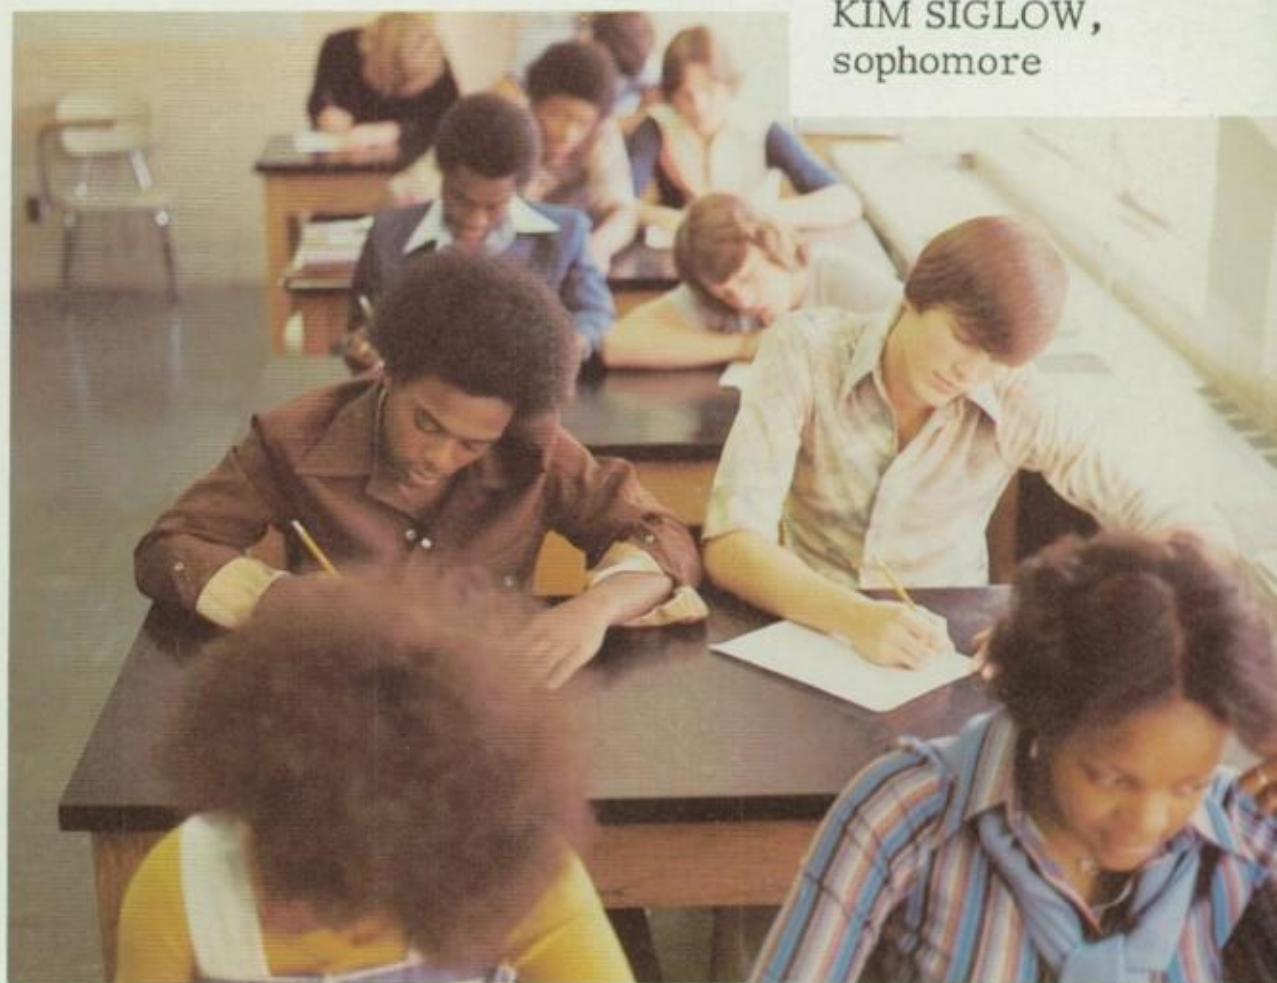

" . . . All around me there were smiling faces, new people to meet, old friends. Only the bright and beautiful side of school life seemed to be noticed, until one of the school's most loved teachers, Mr. Hepler, died unexpectedly (Sept. 18) . . .

"Even though we knew our school's days were numbered, we strived to be the best . . ."

SHORT SEASONS

If our volleyball team had beaten Central, we would not have been allowed to go to state . . . The city football championship game was played by 2 parochial schools . . . In cross country, Joe Garcia of Waite qualified for the Nov. 5 state meet, but could not compete since the Toledo Public Schools were closed. ABOVE: Our O.J. "It first began to really feel like school when the announcements told about the activities that would happen the next week. Classroom reps were elected and clubs were starting to organize themselves. Pep assemblies & fund-raising activities began, and the library opened for business. Fall sports such as football, volleyball, tennis and cross country were beginning to have games (or matches or meets) . . ."

Even though the outlook on school life seemed bleak, we still tried our darndest to make Rogers the best high school in the city. Spirit week was an excellent example of this. Students helped other students, screamed and cheered at pep rallies, decorated the halls, smashed an old junk car, built floats and supported our team."

SPIRIT WEEK

September 25-30th

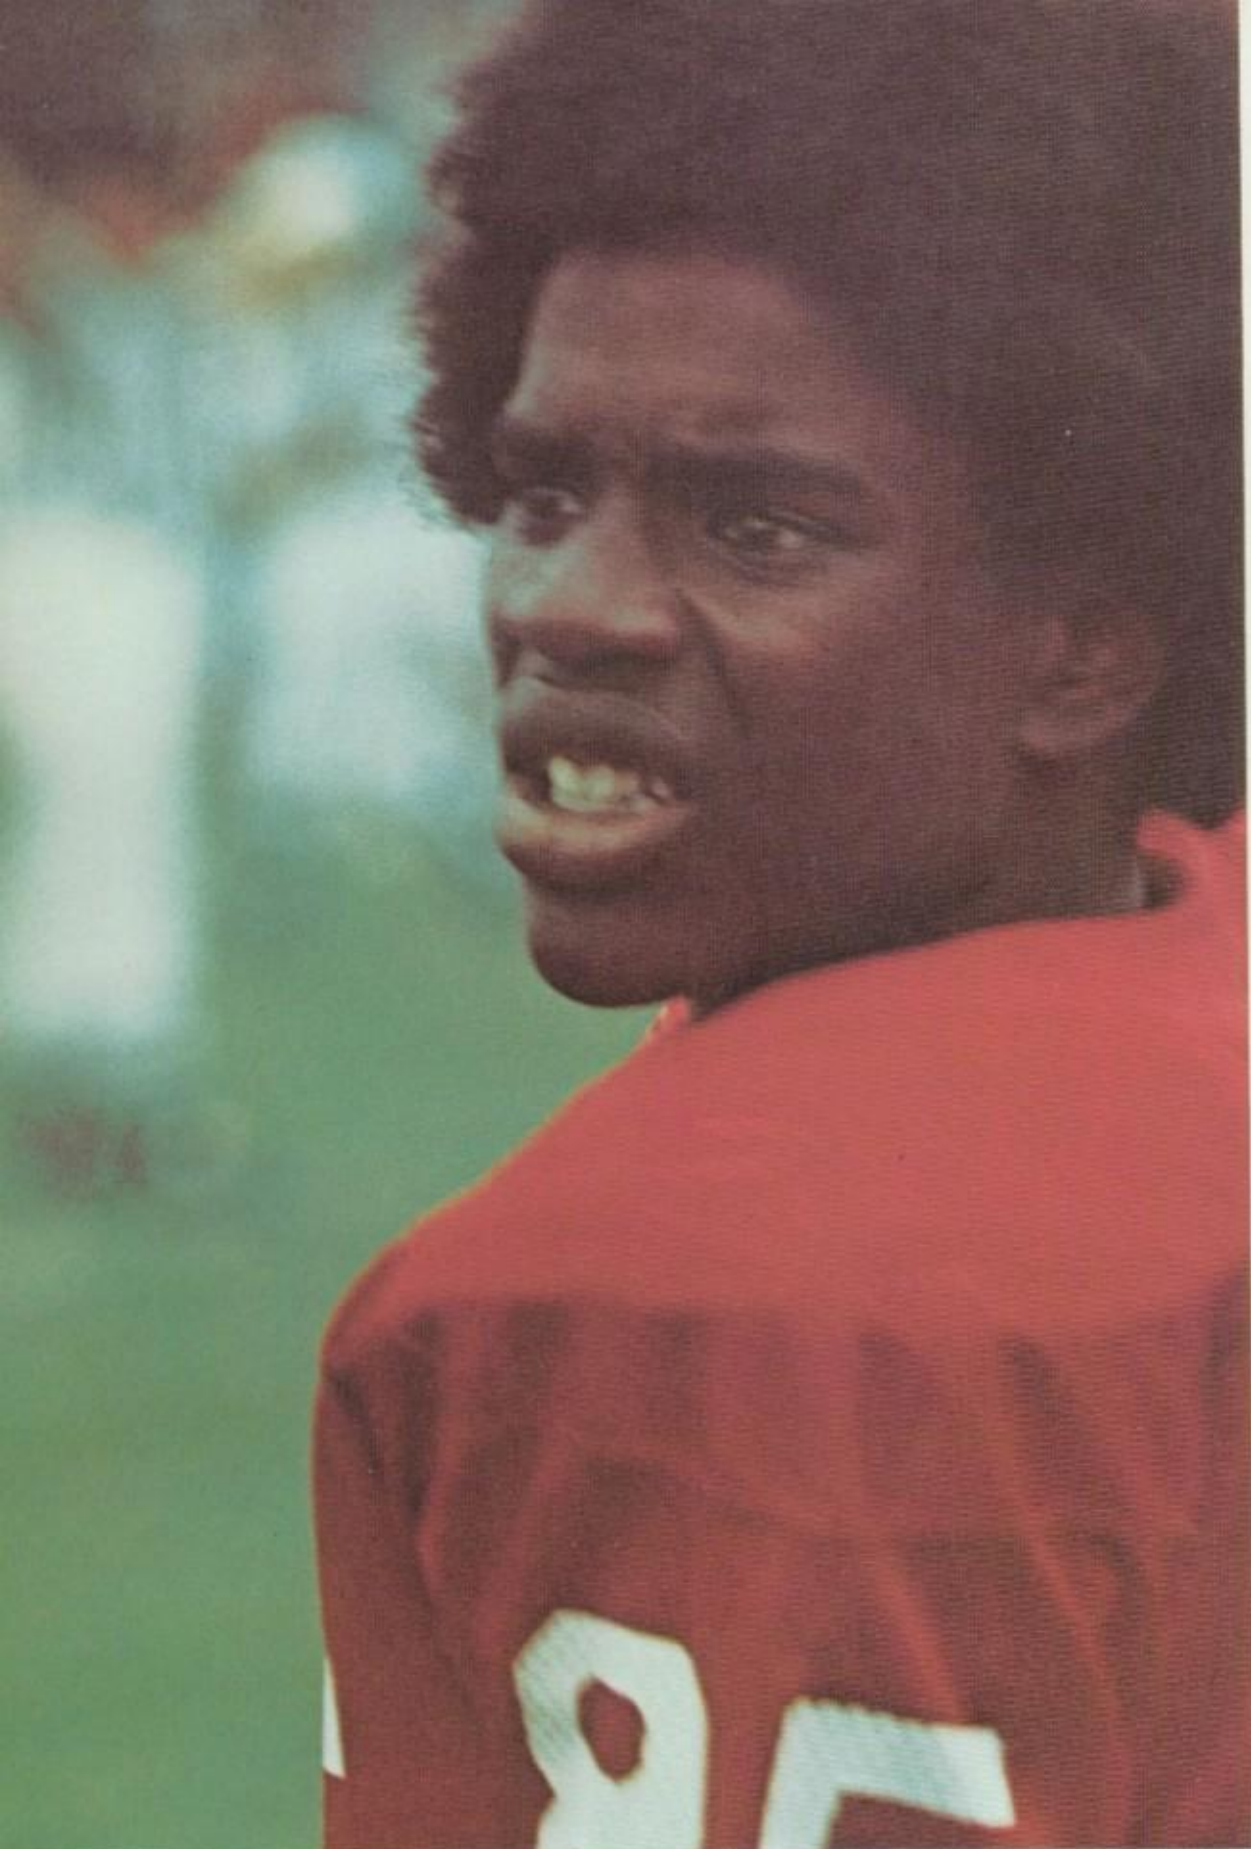

'Twas the week before
Homecoming
And all through the school,
All the students were stirring
And trying to keep cool.
For the spirit within them,
Was bursting like mad,
There was no one in sight
Who was looking quite sad.
First came Monday
We decorated walls,
It showed our excitement
All through the halls.
Then came Tuesday
And what do you know,
We all wore hats
Oh, what a show!
Then on Wednesday
We wore white and red,
From the tips of our toes
To the tops of our heads.
Thursday was peppy
with a tag sale and band,
A rally at eight
And lights in our hands.
A smash-up derby
In the evening took place,
Fifty-cents for three hits
Grand memories to trace.
Friday at school
We began to cheer,
Which class would win
The Stick of the Year?
At five o'clock sharp
The floats paraded in.
We cheered for our team
To go, fight and win.
Next was Saturday
Not a moment too soon,
Couples were dancing,
By the light of the moon.
Then on Sunday
We laid down to rest,
We all would remember
This week was the best.

Some Saturdays may have been saved when board member Mr. Edward Foster gave us 11 days (from Oct 13 to Oct. 28) by delaying unemployment compensation payment (by the board to the state) until 1978.

"Well I'm beginning to know why Johnny Can't Read. He's not in school long enough to be taught. Trying to squeeze a 10 week quarter of time-consuming education into six weeks is mind-boggling. Toward the end of the sixth week it's all still in a haze but come Friday (Oct 28) it will hit me like two Rams butting heads: suddenly I will no longer hear (the hourly) bells ringing in my ears."

Rogers Students Care: More Than 300 Form Death Procession To Mourn The Closing Of School

(More on S.A.V.E. on page 18)

ABOVE: In anticipation of news coverage, many classrooms made posters such as the one above; a headstone on a classroom door symbolized the possible destination of public schools if the levy didn't pass.

Networks . . .

. . . sans William Holden, Peter Finch and Faye Dunaway, was actually happening here! Real-life networks; ABC, CBS, and NBC, all covered "Black Friday" on national news. To symbolize a wake, approximately 300 Rogers students participated in a march that was broadcasted on the "Today" show. It also featured interviews with Mrs. Taylor and other S.A.V.E. members. Marching along to a solemn drumbeat, the band proceeded along a 2-mile course.

Confusion and excitement filled the air Oct. 28. as T.V. cameras and newsmen moved about our school. Students dressed in black and wore armbands made by the Industrial Arts classes. The publicity Rogers received on Black Friday ran rampant. At one point, a student journalist was seen photographing a local news camera, filming a national news camera, filming Miss Collins' typing class!

Once upon a time in a not-so-far-away city, schools ran out of money. Alas, without a miracle, they were sure to close! In the midst of this mess, there lived an English teacher and her senior composition students who cared.

One day, the English teacher brought up the subject of the dark and awful school closing to the seniors, who then became determined to stop this terrible threat from becoming reality. The only way to stop this dreadful affliction was to have the grown-ups pass a 6-mil levy on the city's election day. Unless this levy passed, schools would remain closed for 2 1/2 months. The missing days would be made up on Saturdays, holidays, and vacation time. But how could a handful of high-school kids influence a whole city to vote for a cause most grown-ups were against?

The first step of their long and difficult quest was organization. Other kids were encouraged to join these seniors. They banded together and even gave themselves a grown-up name; S.A.V.E. (Students' Active Voice Efforts). These S.A.V.E. kids all had one thing in common: they LIKED school and were willing to fight to maintain their education.

They set out to public assemblies armed with pro-school posters, buttons, and bumperstickers. They gave speeches in the town square to tell the grown-ups just how the kids felt. And for a while, it seemed like the kids might win. Some elders with great wisdom even helped! Messages were sent across the land, proclaiming the plight of the schools.

As the evil closing day descended, the heroic S.A.V.E.-ers seemed to be the only bright light shining through the darkness . . .

Then all questions ceased. For a short while, doom seemed to dominate and our heroes mourned, for learning closed for seven whole days and seven whole nights.

But hark! The messages of S.A.V.E. were heard by JUST ENOUGH grown-ups to pass the taxes to open the doors to open young minds once again.

So as it turned out, S.A.V.E. sought and S.A.V.E. conquered, for the levy passed on the big city's election day. The schools re-opened victoriously and the joyful English teacher and her kids who cared lived happily ever after . . . (that is, until the Blizzard of '78 closed them again!).

The End

A FINAL (SOUR) NOTE:

Adding Insult To Injury

Just before Christmas, schools nearly closed AGAIN, due to the vagueness of the levy wording. Banks felt the school system might not be lawfully obligated to pay its debts after Jan. 1. After much research by the Board's law firm, this incredible complication was resolved to the satisfaction of all.

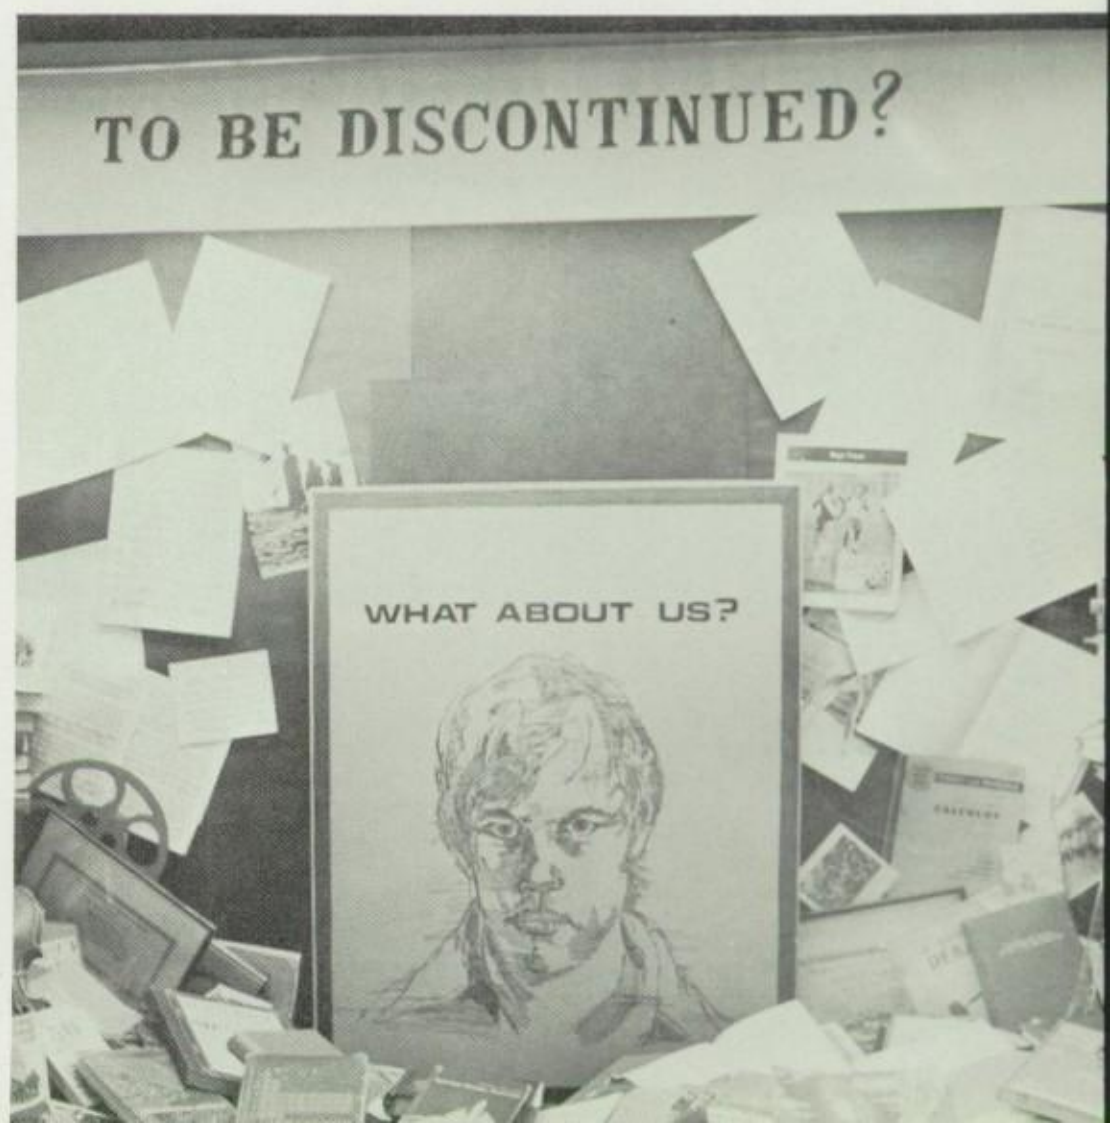

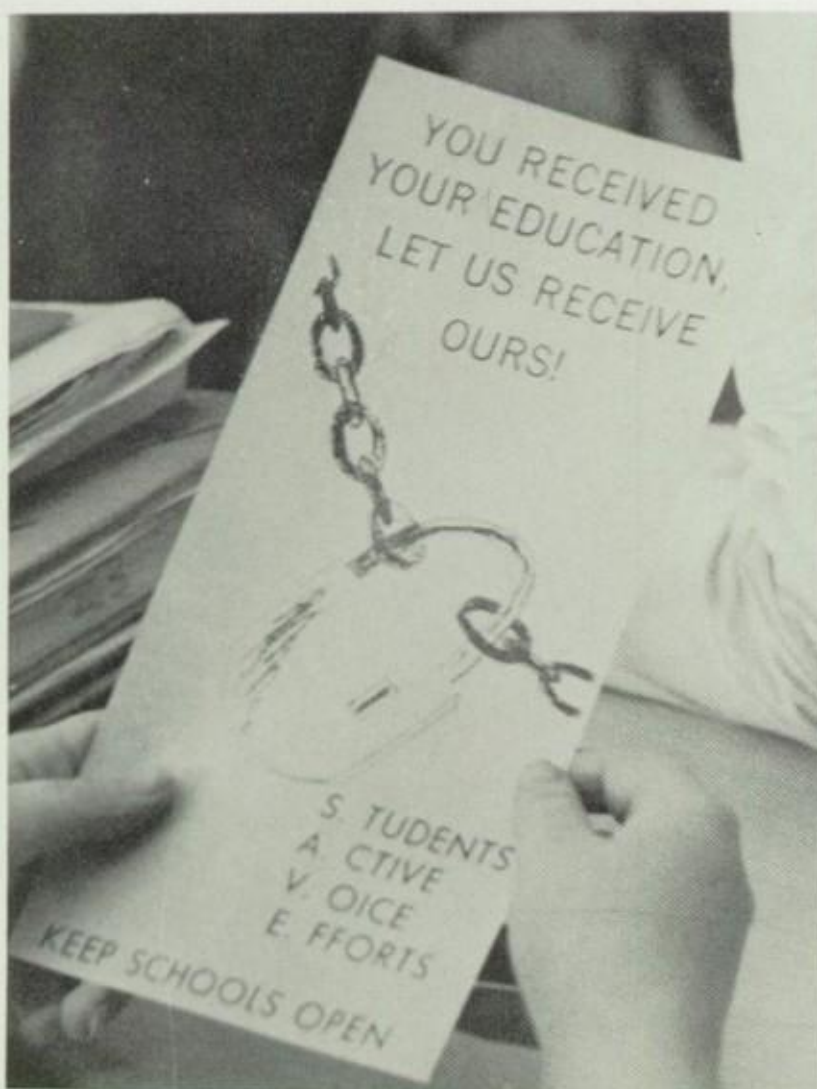

BELOW: S.A.V.E.'s "artillery" was student-designed (and printed by Mr. Bolger).

BOILER OPERATORS ADD WOES.

The week of Jan. 30, was scheduled for exam week but they were postponed until the following week of Feb. 7. Monday, Feb. 6, was planned as a review day for most teachers. Before exams however, when most of the students returned, another surprise awaited them. The boiler operators decided to take their day off: The result--NO HEAT. Temperatures reached 40 in some rooms. So, the busses came back to school at 9:30 to return students to their homes for another day of 'vacation' or, for some, exam study day. To many students surprise, exams contained material that was never reviewed and, due to cut time, teachers were not able to cover. This on top of the other closings caused people to ask: WHAT NEXT?

Blizzard Hits Down Toledo Area Emergency For Ohio

WHO WOULD EVER THINK THAT A SIMPLE DRIZZLE WOULD TURN INTO 18 INCHES OF SNOW!

The biggest blizzard in the history of Ohio hit us on Wednesday, Jan. 25, with no means of warning, after a perfectly normal day of school. This "natural wonder" paralyzed our city for 6 days as virtually all business and industry closed down. Eighteen inches of snow drifted to 20 feet in places. (At press time, Mar. 2, streets are still snow covered and treacherous with an estimated $200,000 an inch spent on road-clearing, pothole fixing etc.)

The blizzard itself was a life-threatening experience for many. Water and electricity in some communities were cut off for many hours. People were trapped inside their houses with little-or-no food or essentials (beer and cigarettes!)

ROGERS STUDENTS ACTIVITIES INCLUDED TOBOAGGANING AND PARTYING.

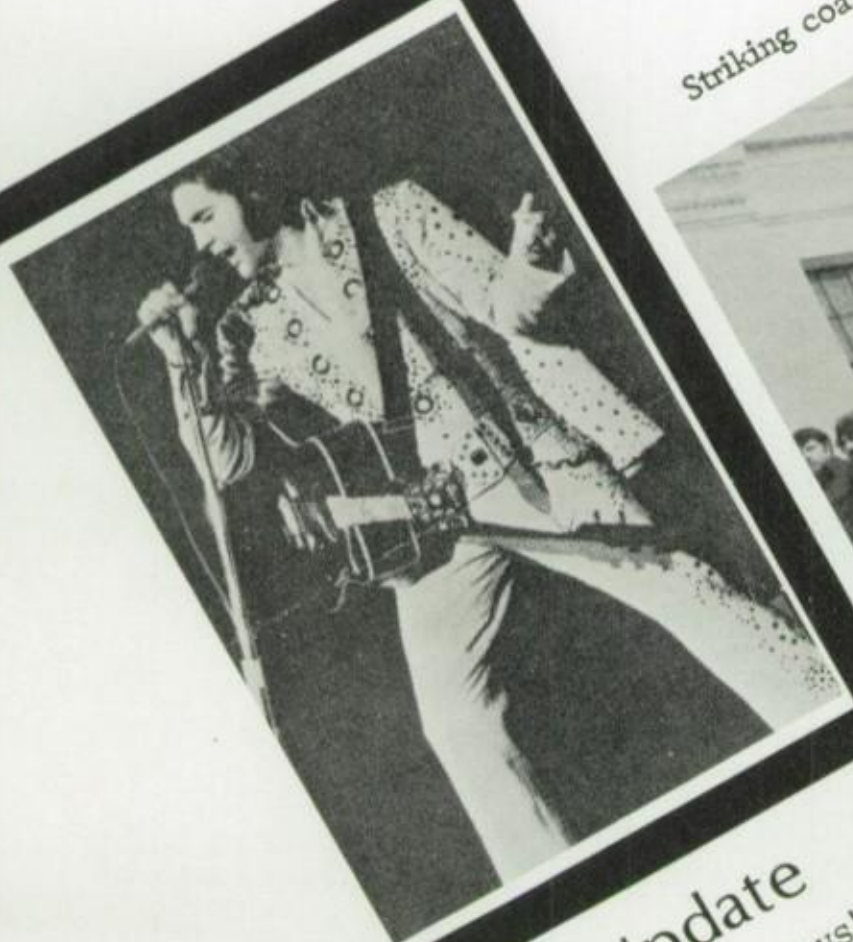

Some Rogers students purchased cross-country skis. A few were lucky enough to have snowmobiles for fun-racing in school parking lots and fields. One Rogers student reported that her car was so buried in snow that the antenna was not visible. Other students found time to walk dogs, ride toboaggans, shovel snow and party with neighbors and friends. Although authorities told residents of the Toledo area to stay off the phones unless it was an emergency, many students talked for hours anyway to friends that they hadn't heard from in a while.

EFFECTS ON SCHOOL-4 DAYS LOST; EXAMS MOVED BACK.

We missed 4 school days due to impassible roads and stranded motorists. School re-opened on Wednesday, Feb. 1, but only 400-500 students showed up for the remainder of the week (Thurs. Feb. 2, and Fri. Feb. 3.).

Three-piece wool suits; skirts and matching shawls; soft lambs' wool cowl-necks; and drawstring sweaters were the rage.

OUR PICTURED DISPLAY MANY OF THESE LATEST STYLES. WHAT FOLLOWS IS A LIST OF SHORT DESCRIPTIONS OF THEM:

Ornamental hoods were prevalent on guys' and girls' sweaters.

Sip-sticks (OPP. PG. BOT. LT.), were a minor fad for between-class drinks (carried pop, kool-ade, and ???).

Pleated skirts with cowl-necks and scarves were worn.

Big coats were in, with the 'Sherlock Holmes' look.

Leather coats, clutch-purses and boots, (often over pegged jeans) were evident in the hallways.

INJURED ROGERIANS

If you've never had your perfect ski weekend, Christmas holiday, Florida vacation or just plain fun wiped out by the fearless duo of casts and crutches, may I salute you.

In the 1977-78 school year, an estimated 875 students were victimized, according to Mrs. Judy Breese, school nurse.

Most "cripples" agreed that after you get over the initial shock (which is 3/4 of your indentured sentence), it's not so bad. All had shared in the feeling that, "It will never happen to me!"

But, alas, there is a brighter side to this terrible tale . . . somewhere!? However healthy you may be, beware . . . for the fickle finger of fate may point at you; and take heed, "The boat of injury never carries a NO VACANCY sign!"

The Act Of Getting To School

Transportation- the act of transporting; to carry, move or convey. The above statement may define transportation, but to many students, it is the hectic, confusing, time-consuming or expensive way to get to school. Let's start at the beginning.

To the average freshman, the only way to get to school is by bus. Rogers is one of the few schools in the city that still uses yellow buses. If these buses cannot run, which happened a couple of times this year, we are literally closed down.

In the sophomore and junior year, students are given a taste of the adult world of transportation: cars. It is during this time that they are able to sign up for driver education classes, both behind the desk and behind the wheel. The driver's license is the status symbol of this time.

By senior year, most students have their licenses and some may have the responsibilities of owning a car. Whether it's a Trans-Am or a '58 Buick, it's the owner's pride and joy.

Transportation is not only a part of modern day life, but also a measure of a high school student's growth.

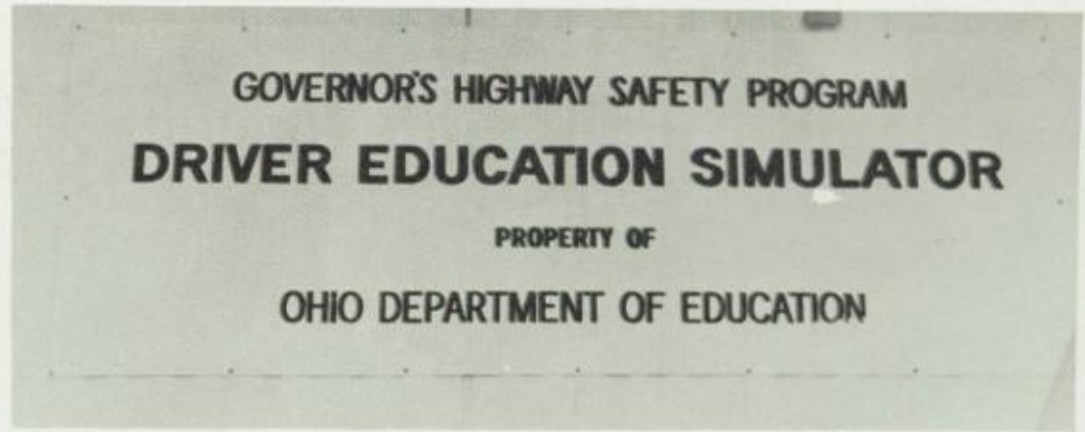

One of our 66 different bus routes, not including the Skill Center shuttles.

BELOW CTR: Outside the Auto Repair garage of the Skill Center, a much-dreamed-of form of movement- motorcycles.

Remember parallel parking? Students try to find a friend with a sub-compact, so they can park it instead of their dad's station wagon (Ed Staton-senior; Mr. Wags).

BOTTOM RT: Every bus-student's ultimate dream car- the Trans Am. This one belongs to Gary Strain (12) (parked in the Senior Lot).

BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS Hallway Ceilings; Tennis Courts Among Additions

Twelve tennis courts with a utility house; an activity sign; and drop ceilings were installed to add to our convenience.

The '78 seniors (along with the class of '77) are paying for part of an activity sign to place in front of the school as their class gift. It will be similar to that at McTigue.

Some exterior doors have been replaced by newer metallic ones.

ABOVE AND CENTER LEFT: With the help of Mr. Nicholson and Mr. Giunta, art students designed and made a sign that explained to the public how the tennis courts were paid for.

LEFT: New tennis courts were placed on Nebraska, east of the Senior Lot. At press time (March 23) it was hoped that the courts would be completed for this spring's team.

TOP LEFT: Miles of 2x4' panels for drop ceilings were installed during school hours. The lower ceilings keep the halls warmer and cut fuel costs. The new lights are larger and brighter, adding a more pleasant atmosphere to the halls. However, the contract failed to have the workers repair the leaks in the roof, so parts of the new ceiling have been destroyed during rain and snow fall.

Fun, French, Furry, And Flowery Hats All Under One Roof . . . WOW!!!

Cow-girls to kitchen-cookers and cooley-birds displayed their brims on Sept. 28. For our young men, this was their once-in-a-lifetime chance to stroll through the halls hatted yet unhassled. Students in general were given the golden opportunity to act out their wildest fantasies. "Howdy Partner" and "Oui, Monsieur" were greetings exchanged between passersby.

The "Domino Theory" can be used as an example of student motivation. Although some thought it would be silly to wear a hat, the overall success of the occasion made them wish they would have. Maybe they will join in next year.

So, to all you zany, innovative participants, HATS OFF!!!

Girls Can't Play Football . . .

. . . was a popular myth until the tradition of the Powder Puff football game was established. On Oct. 24, the junior & senior teams again heartily disproved this myth.

Way back in the days when Rogers was the out-in-the-sticks farm school of Adams Township, freckled-face gals asked barefoot guys to a dance justly titled the "Farmers' Frolic". Now, twenty-two years later, the traditional dance is still an annual event, sponsored solely by the G.A.A.

Lynn Knopp, the main student organizer, arranged for apple cider, a band, and plenty of straw decor, all by the twenty-first of October.

The line up for "Marryin' Sam" was not as long as usual. Why the low attendance? What's the matter guys and gals? The wedlock only lasted till midnight!

Those who did attend had a Yah Hoo, Hip-Hollering good time, and it's hoped that the attendance will grow next time.

A little girl died Dec. 15, of Cystic Fibrosis. It was to be expected by her family. Most children with C.F. never reach adulthood, let alone run or play. But this little girl was special to us. Mary Francis Falvey was the daughter of Rogers teacher Mr. Tom Falvey. It was because of her, and her brother and sister, that we started our annual Cystic Fibrosis Game & Dance 10 years ago.

The male staff battled it out Dec. 21, narrowly defeating the WCWA Apes in a riotous basketball game in which: Crazy Bob Kelly entered the floor as an ostrich; two other "Apes" entered as Sonny and Cher; and a ref scored a basket (which was allowed)! A dance followed in the Girls' gym.

Proceeds, this year exceeding $1,400, were donated to a special fund in Mary's name at the Toledo Hospital Pulmonary Care Unit.

PARENTS' NIGHT

Levy Discussed; ABC Attends

When else can students take their parents to school? Parents' Night is an opportunity for moms and dads to wander around, talk to teachers, and find out how their kids spend their time and effort.

ABOVE: Many students accompanied their parents to visit teachers.

Before classrooms were open to visitors, Oct. 26, a short concert featuring our orchestra was given, and speakers talked about the school levy. ABC network was here, covering the speakers and proposals for the school levy.

CHRISTMAS ASSEMBLY

Tradition Renewed As Assembly Is Held During School Hours

A Christmas concert, the first in recent years, featured OUR kids singing traditional carols. The assembly was the suggestion of Mr. Rezabek, and was arranged a week before it was scheduled on Dec. 20. The program, held during school hours, was relatively successful for being organized in such a short time.

After the first song, sung by the Freshman Choir, many listened attentively. Some songs performed were, "Winter Wonderland", "Jingle Bells" (with a special procession by the Concert Choir), and the "Hallelujah" chorus. During the latter song, some confusion erupted among students as they didn't know whether to stand or not. Perhaps next year, a moderator can explain the traditional behavior to the audience.

teased the contestants, and wore a sombrero and a felt cap, along with a reversed tuxedo and assorted other wacky outfits.

There were 9 official and 4 unofficial acts. Judges ruled a tie for First Place: B. Slack & T. Gregory singing, "I am your Star"; and The Seviles: T. Benson, K. Williams, and J. Ingram (a dance team). The two acts split the $25.78 prize money.

Student attendance was good. "It was the first time recently I saw kids fighting to get IN instead of OUT of an assembly," commented Mr. O'Rourke.

B.G.S.U. Gospel Choir Performs; Ronald Solos

Q. WHAT DO YOU GET WHEN YOU CROSS DR. J. WITH GEORGE BENSON?

A. SENIOR RONALD JOHNSON, OF COURSE!

Ron, usually associated with electrifying slam dunks, showed his exquisite vocal talents by singing his rendition of Ali's theme, "The Greatest". He received a standing ovation from those who attended the Annual Afro American assembly, Wednesday, February 16.

The Bowling Green State University Gospel Choir honored us by performing in our girls gym, such religious spirituals as, "God Is With All Of Us", "He Is Waiting Just For You" and, "We Shall Overcome".

More and more, T.V. has promoted black awareness. Several seasons ago, "Miss Jane Pittman" won high critical acclaim. Last year, "Roots" broke the record for all-time viewing. Appropriately enough, "King", tracing Martin Luther King's life, was shown over three nights the week before our assembly.

The program was sponsored by the Rogers Afro-American Club, and arranged by group advisor, Mrs. D. LaRouth Perry. They also plan an Afro-American Style Show, projected for sometime in May.

CHEERLEADERS

(Further coverage on page 81).

"Cheerleading is more than jumping and flipping around; It requires hard work and skill just like any other sport."

"Essentially the necessities of being a good cheerleader are unity, discipline and enthusiasm. Our girls possess all of these qualities. Many of them attend a World Cheerleading Camp during their summer vacation (though it is not required). I feel the encounters they experience with these professionals form them into better athletes," comments Mrs. Nancy Pietras, co-advisor with Mrs. Mocek.

Strong Offensive Backs, Linebackers, Lead Varsity

A game saving tackle on the one yard line by Defensive Back John O'Connor, with three seconds left, preserved a tight victory over Libbey. This was the kind of play that made Rogers' gridiron a more popular place than in past seasons.

The senior-oriented squad had an excellent offensive backfield with Fullback Mark Ovall, I-Back Chris Foster, and Wingback John Foster. But as the old cliché goes, "You must have good blockers up front", held true for the Rams. Although the linemen were aggressive and strong, they were often outweighed by twenty or more pounds. Dedication and determination, with a little help from a winter weight program, built the team strength-wise.

"We possibly had the best crew of linebackers in the city," remarked Coach Wagoner. Mark Ovall, aided by Donell Foreman (who moved to Chicago), anchored the defense. Jeff Nitz, the best of a weak secondary, held down the 'Monster' position. Although John Najarian was a solid performer up front, the defensive line was physical but slim.

"If you keep them off the boards, they can not win the game," is the philosophy of the upcoming year. We have a good nucleus in four sophomore lettermen. "I'm looking forward to having a better than average season next year, even though it's an unproven theme."

Burzinski #1 in City; Ford and Read Qualify for State

Doubles Loss At State Doesn't Hamper Perfect Season

"We lost! I still can't believe it. We had the best possible chance to advance at State, by drawing a weaker team, and still we lost," reflected Patti Ford on her defeat at State (in doubles competition).

Losing to a weaker team can be frustrating. Fortunately, that was not the case for our Girls' Tennis Team. In fact, it was just the opposite: a 12-1 season record, City Co-Championship and a doubles team qualifying to the State Tournament.

Sophomore Barb Burzinski was the best player in the city with a first place finish* at the #1 singles position. Other singles players were Sophomore Katrina Coleman and Junior Laurie Brodbeck, #2 and #3 respectively.

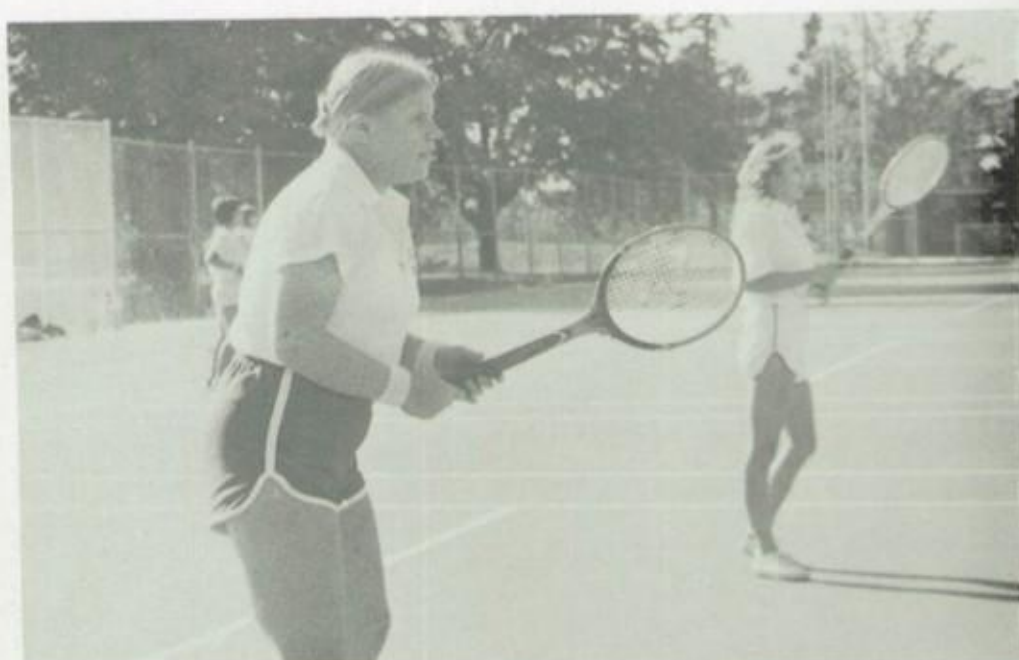

Junior Patti Ford and Senior Ellie Read played #1 doubles, losing only three matches—one to eventual state champions and another came in state competition. Senior Captain Sandy Flower and Sue Flower played #2 doubles and ended with a 20-4 personal season record.

Juniors Debbie Bond and Diana Jorris earned their varsity awards, playing and winning three matches. Teresa Hernacki earned her freshman numerals.

Next year's team will have three strong singles players and with three or four new players, should have another excellent year.

Coach Renaux Retires After Nine Years

Girls Aid Team To 11-1 Season

"Girls? At first I was shaken, but they proved to be good, hard workers . . . In fact, they really HELPED the team!," reflected Coach Robert Renaux. After his 9th successful year as Cross Country Coach, Mr. Renaux has retired because of his promotion to Asst. Principal.

He considers this to be one of his teams' best years. They finished with a 3rd Place City Title and an 10-1 Dual Meet Record. These achievements he credits to all the hot and sweaty summer training as well as an overall team effort contributed by all his athletes.

The squad leaders were senior Rich Losek, along with juniors Bill Odom and Moses Zavala. Two freshmen, Mary Butler and Paul Scsavnicki, proved themselves outstanding.

Mr. Renaux has always encouraged all his "kids"-no matter what their ability-with his philosophy: "Winning isn't everything-wanting to is!"

"I consider Toledo to be a strong representative for Northwest Ohio, with teams like Central, DeVilbiss and Rogers. But school closings hampered regular season play and eliminated our chances to participate in State Tournaments," explained Coach Metti.

Despite the helter skelter situation of schools, the team rallied to be undefeated in their division and maintained a 15-2 overall record. Four All-City Team members reside at Rogers. They are captains Holly McCallister (1st Team), Ann Veitch (2nd Team), Kelly Fankhauser (1st Team), and Kathy Trumbull (Honorable-Mention). All are three-year Varsity Team Members.

Plouck Sustains Bizarre Injury During City Championship

"Is it a bird?" mused Mike Plouck when his perfect stroke struck an underground sprinkler-head, hurling it high into the air. Plouck still recalls the vein-bursting vibrations delivered to his arms and the agony he felt when he saw his club mutilated by the elusive object.

With 14 holes to go in the City Match, and in spite of the personal disappointment and a sprained wrist, Plouck still managed 2nd Team All-City honors. Fellow teammates E. Jay Bell and Ron Kuhl gained Honorable Mention credits. The team overall ranked fourth in City League play. "I think we did a darn good job! The dedication among the guys was great," said Coach Joel Bury.

His first year of coaching, Bury had little to no experience in golf. His team prided themselves on the great job THEY did with HIM this year. "Well, when he came he didn't know much, But NOW he does!"

Rogers Places 4th in Rogers Invitational, Perrysburg Invitational, and City.

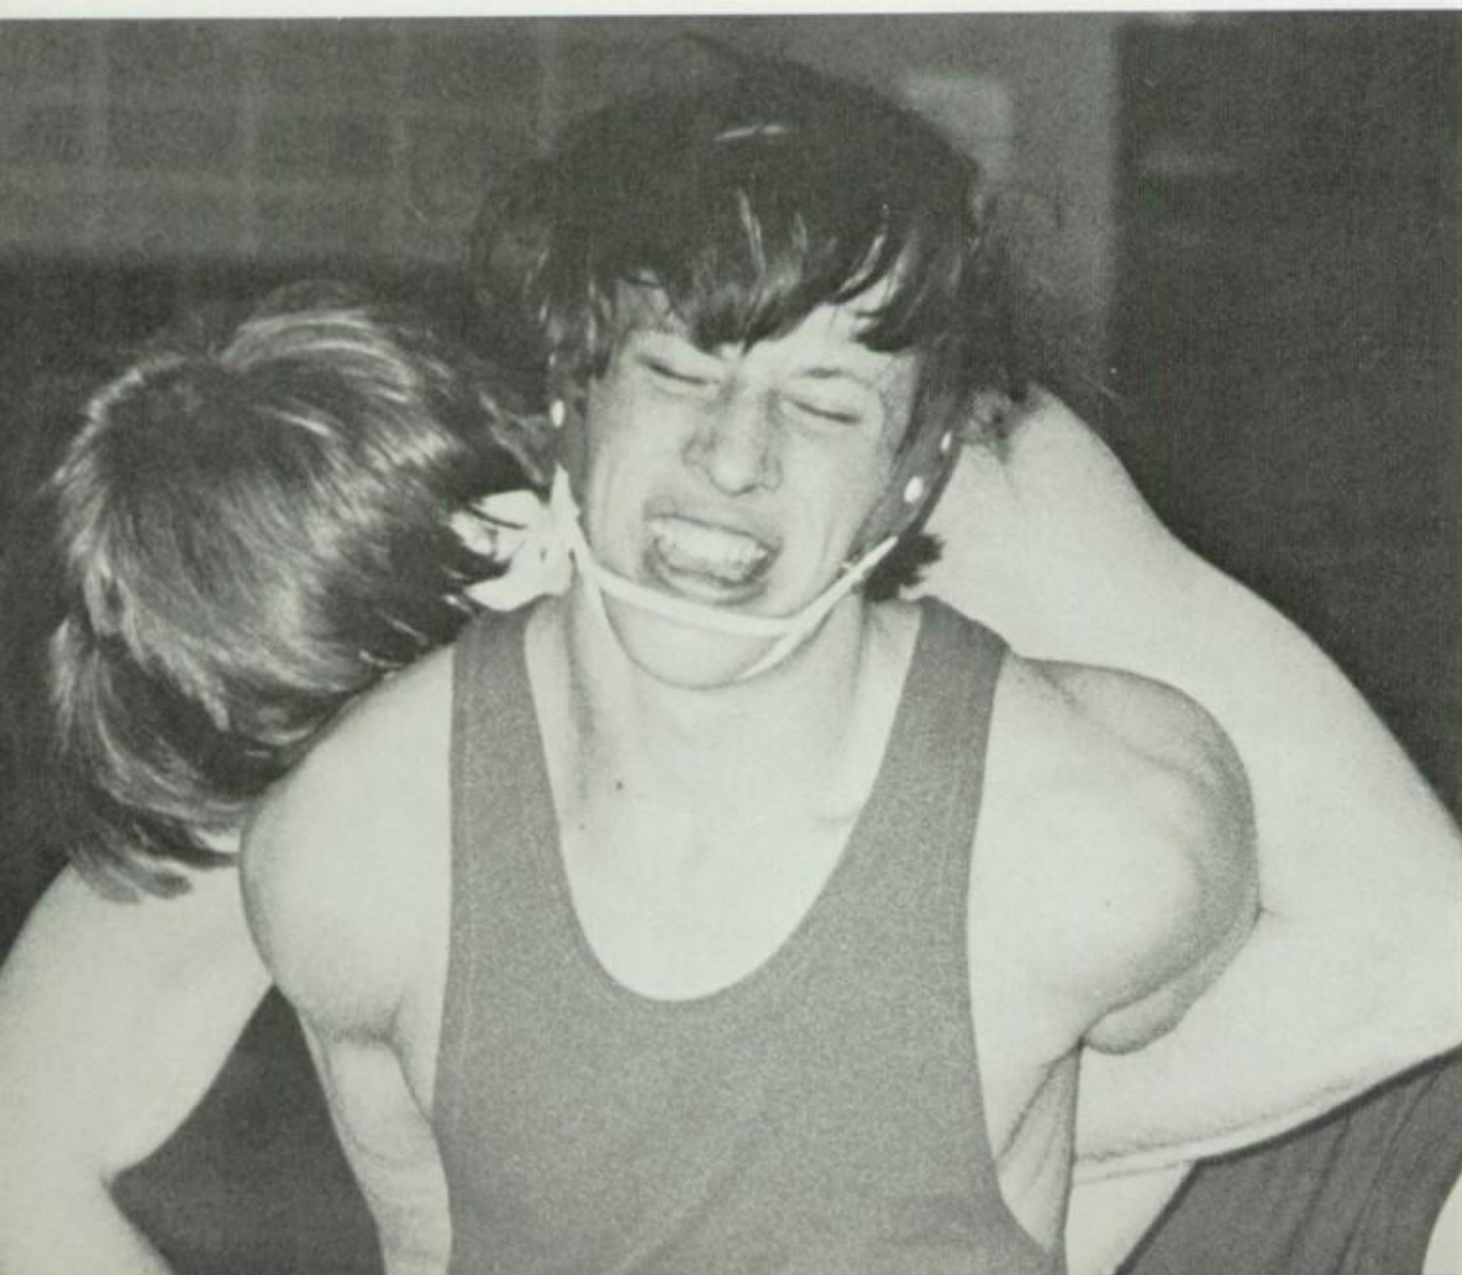

Although we had a few disappointments during the season, our team improved a great deal. They worked harder than usual and put in a lot of time to make their season record complete (7-3). "Their hard work payed off in putting together one of the best final round tournament teams Rogers ever had," (according to Coach Steely).

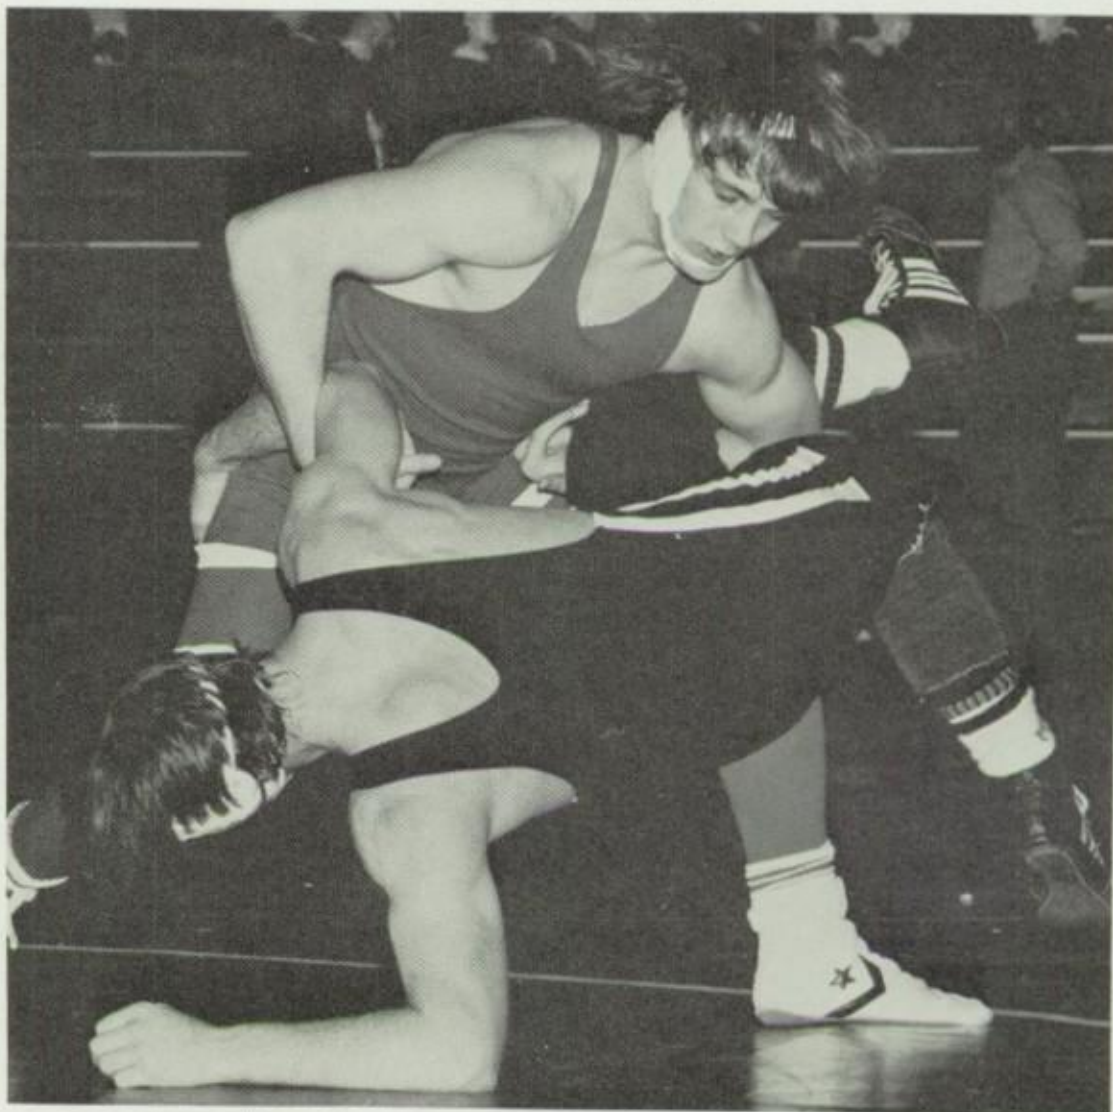

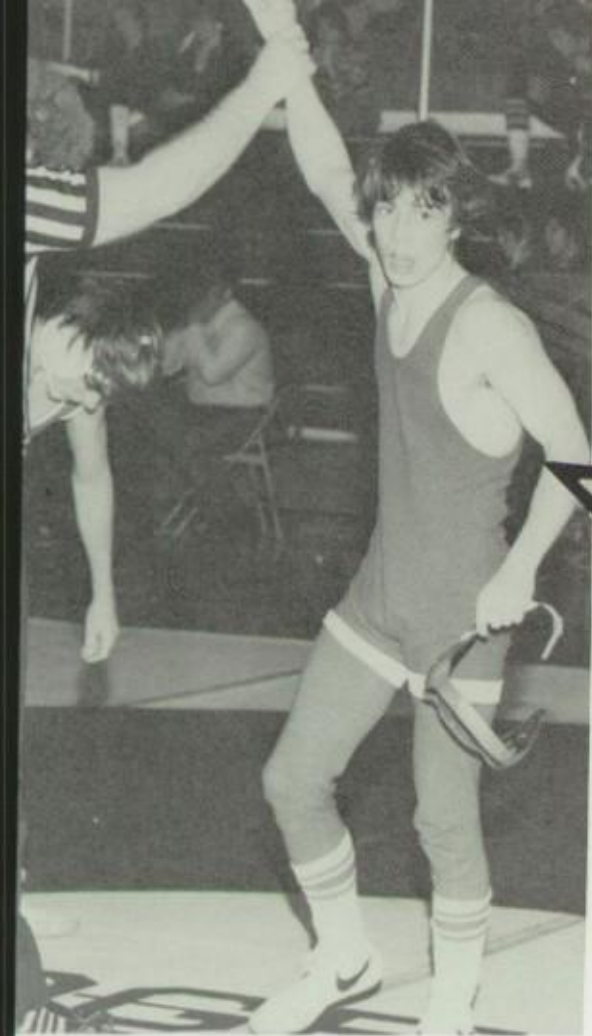

One of our biggest disappointments was the St. John's match. The final score (42-8) indicated a big loss, but actually most of the individual matches were only lost by a few points.

Even though the following four seniors are leaving: Mark Oval, Jeff Wicks, Joe Scribner, and Tom Rego, next year's team, "looks promising with our leading junior competitors and our ambitious freshmen and sophomores," added the coach.

Throughout the years, Rogers' roundball program has produced quality, fundamentally-sound, players. Just to mention a few: Bill Brown, Kenny Cunningham, Kimm Leonard, and Steve Mix. They came up through the ranks and made it to varsity stardom. All four went to college. Mix currently plays for the Philadelphia 76ers (alongside Dr. J!!). Kenny was voted this April to the Jr. College All-American Team, (he scored 54 points in one game).

"One Of My Most Rewarding Years As A Coach"

DEPTH . . . ABILITY . . . COMPETITION . . .
These were the three key words that lead to the success of the varsity team.

DEPTH . . . No city league squad enjoyed this as much as Coach Gladieux. He could freely substitute eight men off the bench and still have five strong men on the floor.

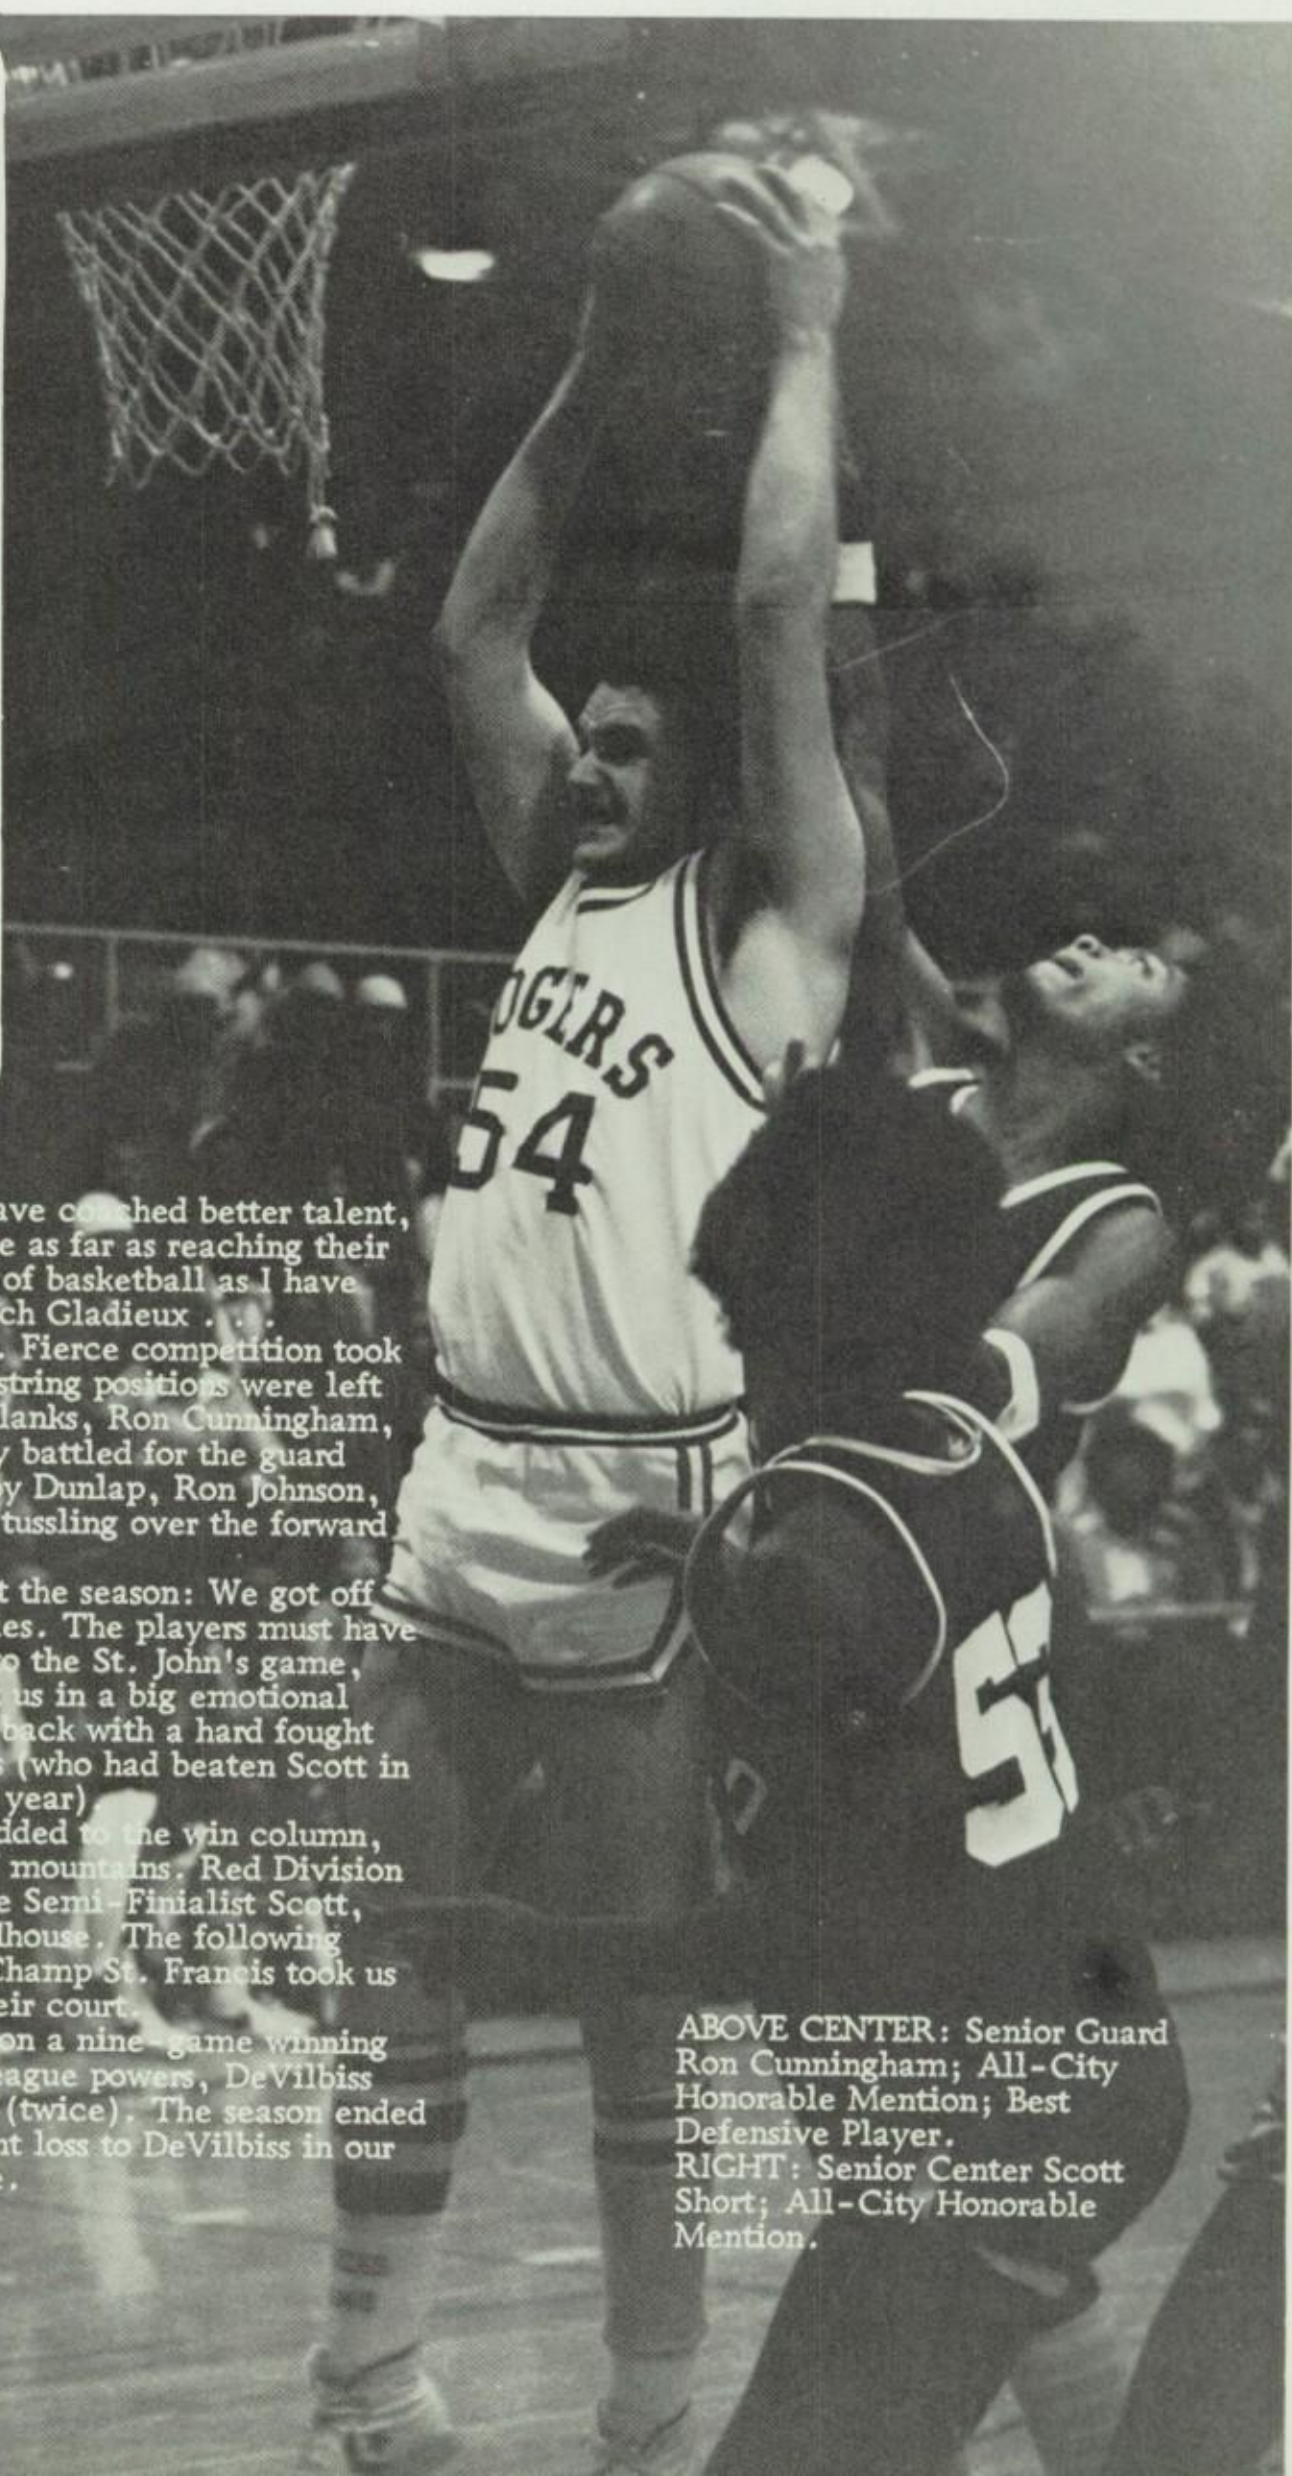

ABILITY . . . "I have coached better talent, but this ball club came as far as reaching their potential in the game of basketball as I have ever witnessed." Coach Gladieux . . .

COMPETITION . . . Fierce competition took over when three first-string positions were left unattended. Delmar Blanks, Ron Cunningham, and Michael Granberry battled for the guard spot. Meanwhile, Toby Dunlap, Ron Johnson, and Wayne Pope were tussling over the forward position.

A few thoughts about the season: We got off with three easy victories. The players must have been looking forward to the St. John's game, when lowly Start upset us in a big emotional letdown. We bounced back with a hard fought victory over St. John's (who had beaten Scott in their first game of the year).

Two more notches added to the win column, and we hit a couple of mountains. Red Division and City Champ, State Semi-Finialist Scott, pounded us in our fieldhouse. The following game, Blue Division Champ St. Francis took us in a closer game at their court.

From there we went on a nine-game winning streak, knocking off league powers, DeVilbiss (once) and Macomber (twice). The season ended with a painful one point loss to DeVilbiss in our third tournament game.

J.V. BASKETBALL

Leading scorer and rebounder Dwight Brown led Rogers J.V. Basketball team to a solid 3rd in the City with an 11-5 record. Libbey took the Blue while Central captured the Red and the overall title.

"We beat Central, the City Champs, midway into the schedule," expressed Coach Maneval, who is in his fourth year as the Reserve Basketball Coach.

Team offense . . . several players averaged about 10 points a game. Other leading scorers were Kelly Pirtle 9.3, Wilson Hill 9.0. Ricky Hogan, Donnel Foreman (who moved), and James King, a transfer from Scott, were also outstanding.

Wilbur Hill played beautifully in his only two games after being ineligible.

"I've Never Coached Girls Before; But Now I've Seen The Light!"

Coach Richard Heintschel

Beginning a new season can always be hectic. Unfamiliar players, a new coach, and injuries can worsen the situation.

After suffering an opening-game defeat to Libbey, we rallied to be undefeated for four-consecutive-games, including the spectacular victory over DeVilbiss. The remaining games contributed both highs and lows in the team morale.

"Patience, they just have to learn to be patient," relays coach Rick Heintschel of his young team. After 8 years experience in coaching boys in basketball, Coach Heintschel confesses he loves working with the ladies, and has a very optimistic outlook on next years' team.

TOP RIGHT: A knee injury to Lonnie Johnson (12), severely damaged team morale by the loss of her talents and leadership. MIDDLE: All-City; Co-Captain, Ann Veitch (12). BOTTOM: All-City, Honorable Mention; Jan Urbaniak (10).

A Celebration of Non-Varsity Sports

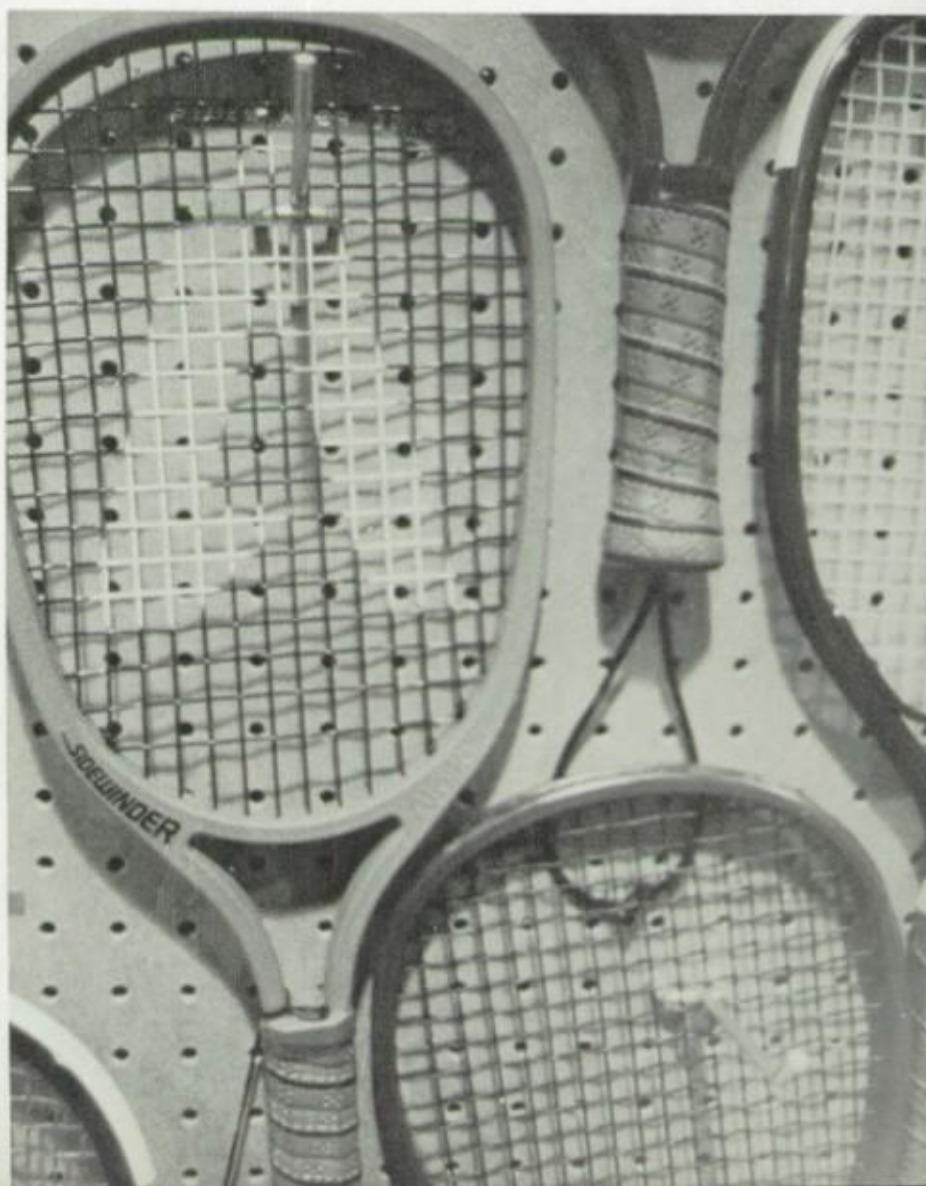

Two new racquetball facilities opened near Rogers, with a third being planned. A skateboarding arena, complete with ramps and valleys, was opened near one of them.

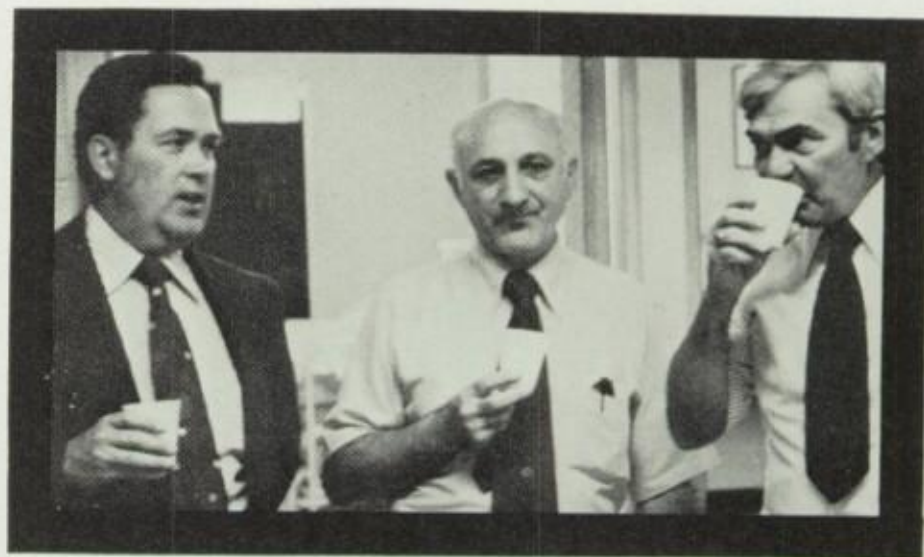

Mr. Giunta, Mr. Rezabek, and Mr. Stephens headed a 20 member Racquetball club.

Again this year, we would like to take this space to say, "Hooray" to all fans, frisbee-flyers, rollerskaters, etc. . . . the TRUE JOCKS!

Administrative "Musical Chairs"

As the title of the children's game suggests, grown-up administrators were shuffled from school to school, and from position to position. Mr. Contrada, who is now principal at Woodward, has been replaced by Mr. Booth who, in turn, was replaced by Mr. Cotton BUT, Mr. Rittichier, who also went to Woodward, was replaced by Mr. Renaux . . . BUT, Mr. Renaux, who was also the track and cross country coach, had to be, again in turn, replaced by Mr. Baldrige (who didn't need replacing by anyone)!

To make things even more confusing, Mr. Booth, replacing Mr. Contrada, forgot to take Mr. Contrada's sign off his former door which reads "Mr. Contrada", while actually officing Mr. Booth. This could really confuse a stranger to our school. Ask college observationist Cathy Robison, who described "Mr. Contrada" as having white hair! (Mr. Contrada is bald, Mr. Booth has white hair.)

Entire Department Attends August Workshop

"I've had a bad experience with sweat socks . . ." was Barb Burzinski's way of getting her impromptu speech off the ground. In Mrs. Bonasch's sophomore Honors English class, students didn't know what their topic was until the last minute. The "instant" speeches taught students how to be on-the-spot creative.

The impromptus were one suggestion from a Bowling Green course titled, "How to Teach Composition". Fourteen of our sixteen English teachers participated in these August classes, and now apply new techniques to improve our language skills.

American History From a Video Tape?

Did you ever try to watch a t.v. set the size of a postage stamp from the back of a double room with 20 afros and a giant sitting in front of you?

All joking aside, the "Thomas Jefferson" series really added a more meaningful understanding to American History. Students also got a look at the inhumane treatment of people in German concentration camps.

Mr. John Recknagel, "the ice-pack man", who is the trainer for our athletic teams, is now teaching Civics after two years of permanent subbing here.

This September was a tragic one for the History department and for the entire school, as the sudden death of Mr. Dale Hepler struck us all. (Mrs. Debbie Campbell temporarily took over his classes).

We thought it would be appropriate to publish a 1976 character sketch of Mr. Hepler:

MR. DALE HEPLER--"Don't judge anyone until you've walked a mile in his moccasins."

Wears earth shoes and western Bolo ties, such as the crab one with single claws on the end of the cords. Well-known for cigar smoking; keeps a drawerful in the Men's Lounge. Known for "old timer" stories at poker games. A Typical Classroom Incident: His class is quietly working on an assignment.

There is a disturbance outside the door. Suddenly, he storms out into the halls and snarls,

"Knock it off out there!" With a sour expression, he stomps back in, opens his closet, looks into the mirror as if no one is watching, and proudly states, "That-a-way, Dale!" Satisfied, he skillfully combs his hair.

In a country concerned with energy, wouldn't it be appropriate to have a high school course labeled "Power & Energy"? Mr. Ash teaches such a course and it deals with electrical, mechanical and pneumatic (air) power. This new introductory class is experimental and will be flexible in content from year to year. "Power & Energy" and the other Industrial Arts are popular classes, so they are filled to capacity again this year.

In effort to expand the Art program, Mr. Nicholson and Mrs. Harrison again "persuaded" Mr. Kiker. The results were a new art teacher, Mrs. Schick. She came from an inner city junior high school, to work part time with the general art classes. Next year she will be helping with the Craft courses.

The Art Department also received more photo equipment this year to enable them to make slides of students' artwork for future reference.

Curiosity captured us all as we walked through our halls in late September. Huge cameras blocked our way! The Rogers DECA chapter was chosen as one setting of a national demonstration film.

A.C. Teaches Consumer Skills, Finds Jobs

Perhaps the rest of the school should take a lesson from A.C.! The program improves consumer survival skills such as grocery listing, check-book balancing, and label reading.

Students in this course cannot function well in the established curriculum, so A.C. provides both projects that they can be good at and work experience.

Older members visit Jefferson Center to try out their clerical and mechanical skills. They assemble a tricycle, do art-welding, and put together a door lock. Projects such as these help them to become contributing citizens and

Of '78!!!

DANCING: The boisterous and inseparable three musketeers-J. Phillips, L. Menning, and D. McDowell.

ABOVE: Homecoming crowd.
BELOW: The true holiday spirit of giving was reflected when Scott "Santa" Short and the Reps. collected canned goods for four needy families.

"I Don't Suffer
From Insanity, I
Enjoy Every Minute
Of It!"

In the beginning, 15 of us sat around a table, completely silent, not knowing where to start. After we got organized, we began to absorb ourselves into our work. To brighten up the atmosphere we decorated the room with bright colors, and added Conway to our staff. Things began to go in the right direction. Our first three deadlines were in on time. We pulled ourselves out of debt by sticking to a paste-up program, keeping a small trim size, and selling more ads. Overcoming many difficulties, student photographers became less dependent on Powll's. The first Rogerian with a full color cover was achieved. The overall atmosphere was peaceful and productive.

But to every silver lining, there is a dark cloud. School levies, blizzards, teachers' meetings, and assemblies caused us well over 20 work days. We fell behind, but we finished the final deadline before spring break. This had not happened in two years. So when the dust settled, after having had less time, we'd finished earlier. Staff pride grew and so did our abilities.

Many of us are returning with high hopes and the security of knowing that next year. In the beginning, 15 of us will again sit around a table . . . but we WILL know where to begin.

Looking
future...

As supplies of natural gas and oil continue to grow scarce, electricity will play an even larger role in meeting the expanding energy needs of our society. That's why Toledo Edison is developing new sources of energy, such as nuclear power, and planning ahead for the power needs of 1990 and beyond.

We're determined to meet this challenge and provide the best possible electric service for your generation and others that follow.

WHY A HAWK? Mostly for personal reasons. I love the outdoors. Eagles and hawks represent the power and beauty of nature to me. The hawk also symbolizes the forces that were constantly preying on our school system.

Let's make another comparison - This is the story of:

THE LITTLE SCHOOL THAT COULD

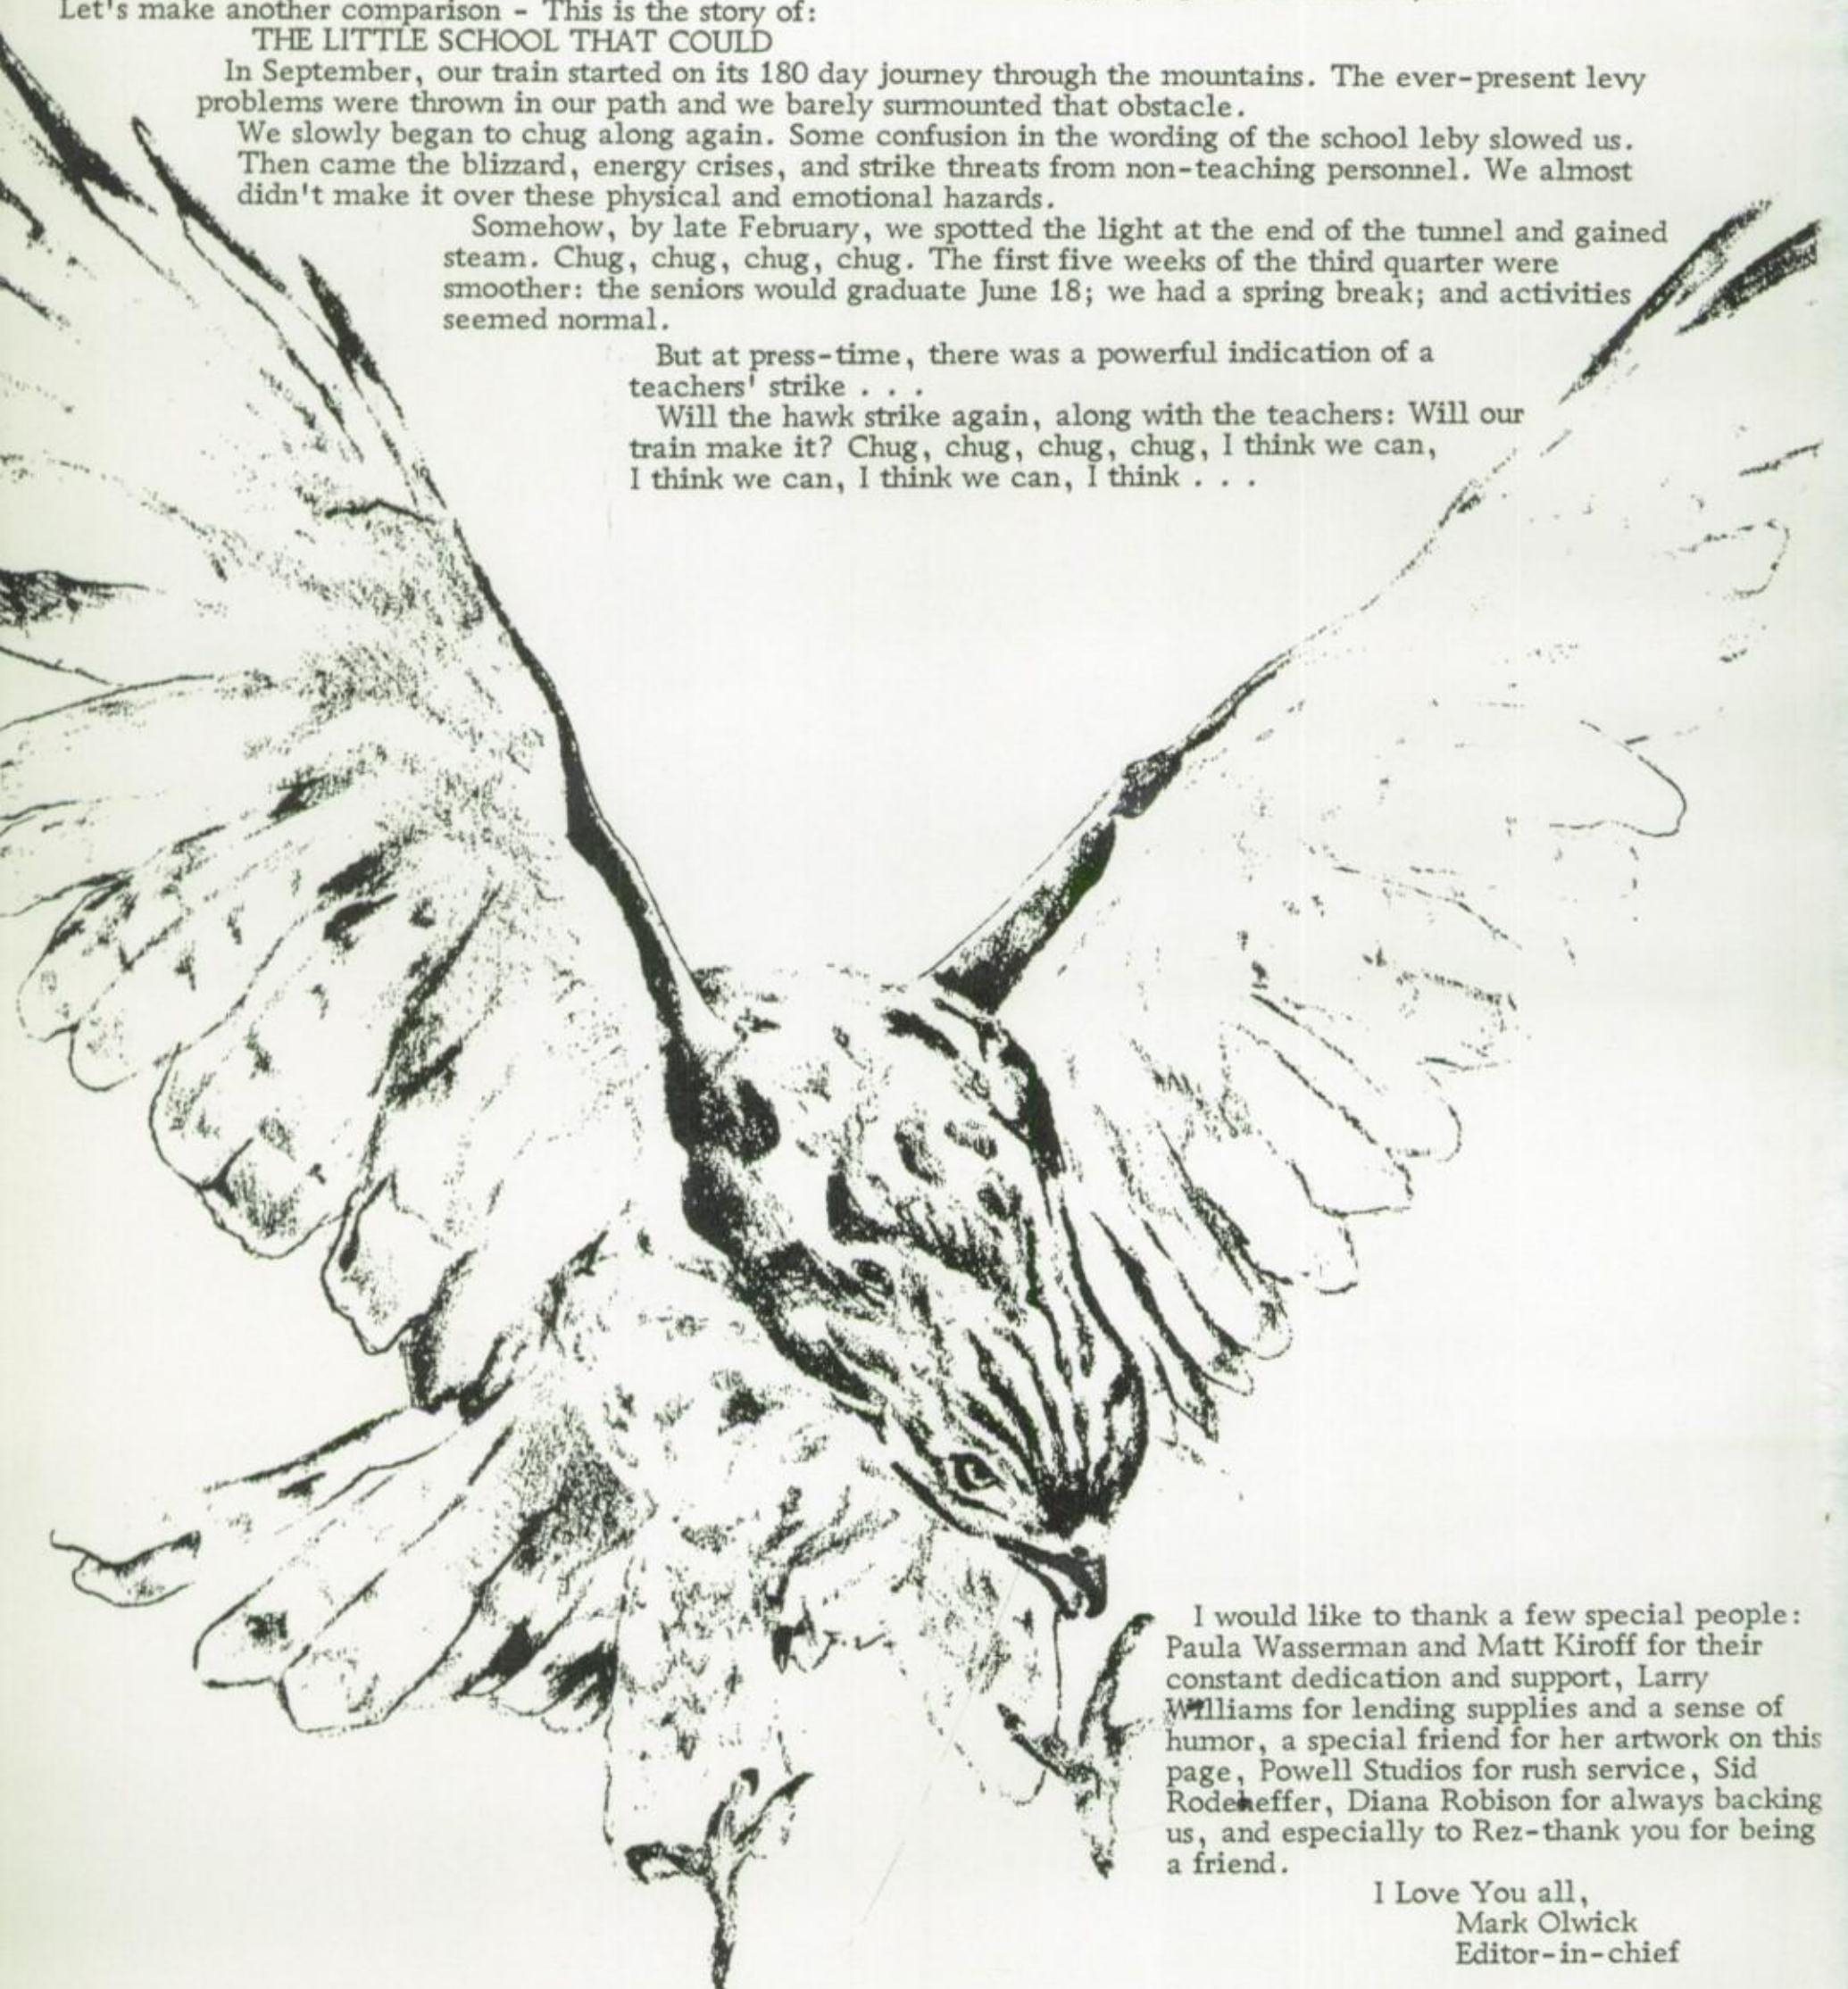

In September, our train started on its 180 day journey through the mountains. The ever-present levy problems were thrown in our path and we barely surmounted that obstacle.

We slowly began to chug along again. Some confusion in the wording of the school leby slowed us. Then came the blizzard, energy crises, and strike threats from non-teaching personnel. We almost didn't make it over these physical and emotional hazards.

Somehow, by late February, we spotted the light at the end of the tunnel and gained steam. Chug, chug, chug, chug. The first five weeks of the third quarter were smoother: the seniors would graduate June 18; we had a spring break; and activities seemed normal.

But at press-time, there was a powerful indication of a teachers' strike . . .

Will the hawk strike again, along with the teachers: Will our train make it? Chug, chug, chug, chug, I think we can, I think we can, I think we can, I think . . .

I would like to thank a few special people: Paula Wasserman and Matt Kiroff for their constant dedication and support, Larry Williams for lending supplies and a sense of humor, a special friend for her artwork on this page, Powell Studios for rush service, Sid Rodeneffer, Diana Robison for always backing us, and especially to Rez-thank you for being a friend.

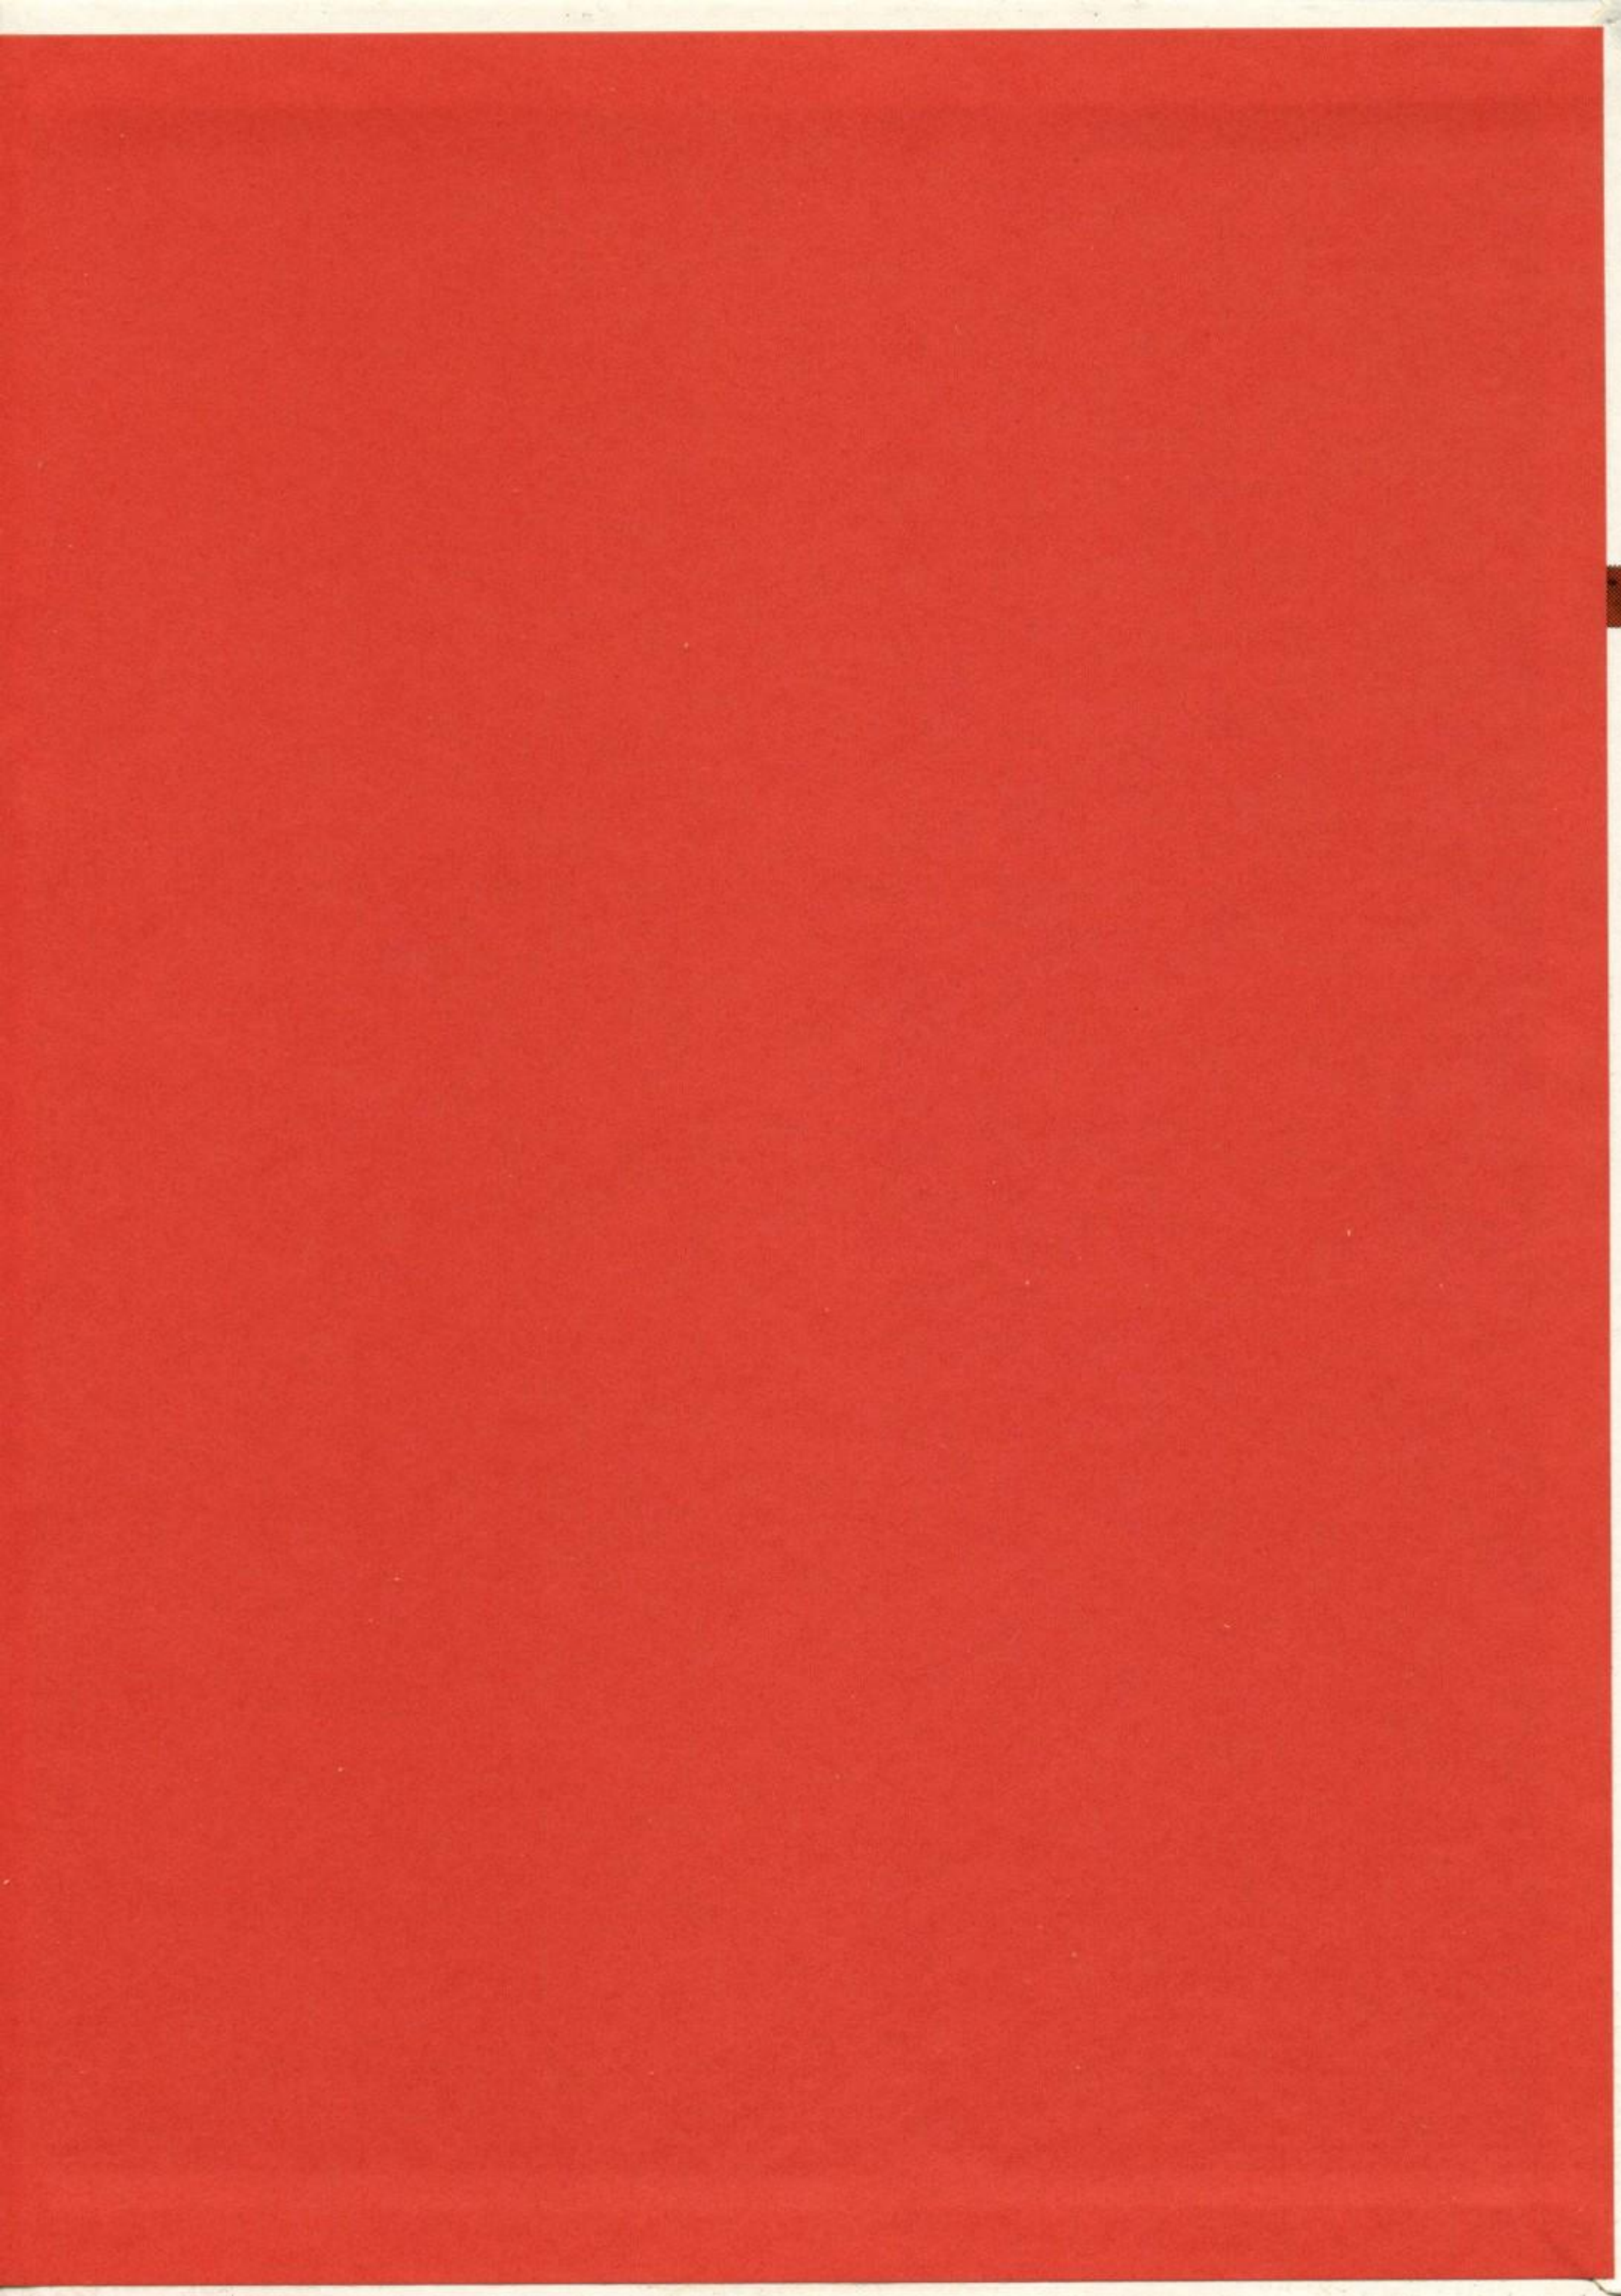

I Love You all,
Mark Olwick

This year has been a strange (unusual) year. It's been fun though, a lot of fun, Driving to and from school, having the same classes, a teacher but not the same boy. It's all been sweet. I have known you for so many years now, that it's hard to believe that school is all over, but I know you will keep in touch some how. Oh well! Good-bye Good-bye, Take Care, stay cool, and all. (178)
